FAMILY GIVES UP FIGHT TO KEEP GOVERNOR LONG IN A MENTAL HOSPITAL

Forecast Promises Some Thunderstorms

By Associated Press
Extended forecast for Thursday, June 25, through Monday, June 29:
Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia—Temperature change until cooler Sunday or Monday. Scattered thunderstorms nearly every day through Sunday. Precipitation will average 1/4 inch to locally more than an inch.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The departure of Mrs. Earl K. Long indicated today members of the Louisiana governor's family have given up the fight to keep him in a mental hospital.

Joe Arthur Sims, chief attorney for the fiery, 63-year-old governor, said Mrs. Long's departure Tuesday night assured Long's release. Sims would not elaborate on his optimistic outlook, but said today he had checked the report of Mrs. Long's leaving and had confirmed it.

Mrs. Long's departure removes the chief opposing witness from a hearing today at Covington where the governor will ask Dist. Judge Robert Jones for his release from the Southeast Louisiana Hospital.

Judge Jones declined comment on Mrs. Long's decision. Mrs. Long had not indicated whether she would oppose the governor's latest bid for freedom. But Sims said he had summoned her as a witness.

There was also no word of opposition to the hearing from Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), the governor's nephew, or Dr. Arthur Long, who treated the governor after his profanity-striven flareup in a legislative hearing four weeks ago.

At Sims' request, court authorities issued subpoenas Tuesday for Mrs. Long and 15 others wanted as witnesses. Lt. Gov. Luther B. Fryar, who has been reluctant to take over as governor, was among those subpoenaed.

Mrs. Long has been a key figure in the case from the start. She signed the request for her husband's confinement earlier to a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex. Last Thursday, she asked for his commitment to the Southeast Louisiana (mental) Hospital at Mandeville.

Bomb Scare Aboard Jet Carrying 107

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A New York-bound jet airliner with 107 passengers aboard was forced to return to Los Angeles International Airport Tuesday night because of a bomb scare.

A ticket agent said a woman phoned moments after the liner took off and warned him that her husband had placed an incendiary bomb "in the body of the plane."

The TWA jet was ordered back to the field. Nothing was found.

Governors En Route to Moscow Arrive in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Nine American governors en route to Moscow for a 24-day tour of the Soviet Union, landed in Paris today for a brief sightseeing tour. The governors are Leroy Collins of Florida, George D. Clyde of Utah, John E. Davis of North Dakota, Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Stephen L. McNichols of Colorado, Robert H. Smylie of Idaho, William G. Stratton of Illinois and Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia.

LAUNCHING DELAYED, VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An attempt to launch the Discoverer IV satellite rocket was postponed Tuesday because of technical problems in range communications. There was no indication when the shot will be re-scheduled, but past delays have invariably been for at least 48 hours.

Father Still Tries to Save Starkweather

LINCOLN, Neb. (A)—Charles Starkweather, 20-year-old confessed slayer of 11 persons, is scheduled to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary Thursday.

His execution will come shortly after midnight tonight—unless it is again stayed for more court action.

The fifth death date for the red-haired killer was set Tuesday by the State Supreme Court after formal notice that the U. S. Supreme Court had declined to review the case was received.

Guy Starkweather, father of Charles, said he would file in District Court in Lincoln today for a writ of coram nobis, alleging illegal detention, and asking a stay of execution.

Charles has contended he was not properly represented in his trial by two court-appointed attorneys. He was angered at the trial because the attorneys entered a plea of insanity in his behalf.

He was convicted of killing Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., school boy. Jensen was one of 10 victims of Starkweather in Nebraska and Wyoming during a four-day rampage in January 1958. A month before Starkweather had killed a filling station attendant in a holdup.

Wanted Killer Is Found Asleep in Slain Man's Car

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—A grieving son en route to identify his murdered father's body spotted the family car pass by at dusk Tuesday. His alertness paid off. A husky mental patient, sought in the killing, was captured—asleep in the slain man's car.

The manhunt ended in a roadside clump of bushes near the central Washington town of Cle Elum where John Bernard Doyle, 22, was found in the car. The capture came only hours after the body of Vivian Meagher, 56, Seattle salesman, was found shot and bludgeoned in desolate hill country 45 miles southwest of here.

Doyle, who escaped from Northern State Hospital June 9, was also wanted in connection with the pistol-whipping of a student nurse in Seattle Monday night. Frances Mullin, 22, identified Doyle as the man who attacked her outside her apartment.

Claims Effects of Radiation Doses May Be Overestimated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Radiation injury sticks with its victim, a scientist said today, but the shortening of life by small radiation doses may be overestimated.

Dr. Robert R. Newell said in testimony prepared for a Senate-Health subcommittee that the human body does not recover completely from the kind of radiation in the dust and debris of an atomic explosion.

"About 10 per cent of the radiation injury persists," Newell said. "The rest is half gone in a month."

Newell discussed extended ex-

Queen Reviews Honor Guard

Queen Elizabeth reviews an honor guard during her visit to Quebec City, Canada. (NEA Telephoto)

By REILMAN MORIN

QUEBEC (AP)—It was a big, busy, glittering, heart-warming day in Quebec for Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

And Quebec's French-speaking citizens are still thrilled today after the royal couple's visit to the charming old capital of French Canada.

Standing upright in a jeep and holding a guardrail, Elizabeth inspected an infantry regiment of which she is colonel in chief. Aboard the Britannia the royal couple received over 400 newsmen and photographers who are covering their tour of Canada and then stood chatting easily like a host and hostess at any cocktail party.

The Queen and Philip were guests at a state dinner which will be remembered as one of the most brilliant pageants in the long history of this ancient city.

In a jam-packed program that lasted 13 hours—from morning until nearly midnight—Elizabeth and Philip touched off an explosion of excitement and acclaim that filled the streets with cheering crowds.

It was the biggest day so far of their Canadian trip, now nearly one week along.

They sailed along the St. Lawrence today for Trois Rivieres and Montreal. The meeting with President Eisenhower and the formal opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway comes Friday.

At the reception aboard the yacht, Philip candidly discussed stories that he has been rough on photographers.

Negotiations for Steel Contract At Vital Stage

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel negotiations entered the big buy-and-sell period today. They have talked without accomplishing anything for seven weeks. Now is the time to do business if a July 1 strike is to be avoided.

The steel talks are in a stalemate. Neither side has made any concessions. But with the strike date rapidly approaching, the Steelworkers Union and industry were beginning to do a bit of quiet horse-trading.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and top bargainer for the industry, said steel companies have received no reasonable union offer worth considering.

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers Union said the industry has made no money offers.

There was speculation that, barring any settlement, the union (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Showers Possible For Thursday Fight

NEW YORK (A)—Possible showers Thursday afternoon or night were forecast today in New York. These could interfere with the heavyweight championship fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson in Yankee Stadium. In event of rain the fight would be held Friday night.

Couple Weds in Circle Of Covered Wagons

KEMMERER, Wyo. (AP)—In a setting reminiscent of 100 years ago, Judith Day Roudenbaugh, 18, and Thomas A. Hollman, 21, both of Drain, Ore., were married Tuesday in a circle of covered wagons.

The background was formed by prairie schooners of the Oregon Cavalcade, presently retracing the old Oregon Trail between Independence, Mo., and Independence, Ore., in celebration of Oregon's centennial.

The ceremony, with the principals attired in pioneer clothes, took place at the Oregon Trail monument in Kemmerer's Triangle Park. The Rev. R. F. Meier, pastor of Kemmerer Methodist Church officiated.

Scientist Spy Bears No Grudge Against Britain

BERLIN (AP)—Klaus Fuchs disappeared behind the Iron Curtain Tuesday night saying he bears no grudge against the British for his nine years in prison as an atom spy.

The German-born scientist was hustled out of England after his release from a 14-year sentence for handing secrets of the atomic bomb to the Soviet Union. He had been stripped of his naturalized British citizenship upon his conviction, and the British government did not try to prevent him from joining his father in Communist East Germany.

Newsman were barred from speaking to Fuchs during his last hours in England. But several booked seats aboard the Polish airliner that flew him to Germany and reported their interviews with him today.

Fuchs worked with British and American scientists on the development of the atomic bomb and at the time of his arrest was chief of theoretical physics at Britain's Harwell nuclear research establishment.

$230,000,000 Atomic Energy Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a bill authorizing 230 million dollars of Atomic Energy Commission construction projects. The total exceeds his request by 51 million dollars.

Among the added projects was a five-million-dollar allotment to improve the reactor facilities at the nation's first large-scale atomic power plant at Shippingport, Pa. This is contingent upon action by the Duquesne Light Co. to provide increased generating facilities.

STRIKE STILL ON CLEVELAND (AP)—United Steelworkers officials said new efforts would be made today to end a wildcat strike that has halted production at Republic Steel Corp.'s strip plant in Cuyahoga Heights.

House Favors Amendment Reducing From 21 to 18 the Minimum Voting Age in Pa.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The minimum voting age would be reduced from 21 to 18 in Pennsylvania under a proposed constitutional amendment passed by the House Tuesday night.

Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader, said prospects of passage were excellent in the GOP-controlled Senate since the measure was in the Republican campaign platform of 1958.

The House vote was 187-14. There wasn't a word of debate. If approved by the Senate, the question will appear as a referendum question in the Nov. 3 general election.

House speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), at 82 the oldest member of the House, was among those who opposed the measure.

"This constituency (persons from 18 through 20), by its eccentricities and youthful immaturities, has created many traffic problems and juvenile delinquencies," he said in an interview. "They need a bit more seasoning before they should deal with affairs of state."

The Committee on Constitutional Revision recently failed to recommend giving the vote to 18 year olds.

The House also voted to allow governors to be elected to two consecutive terms. The vote was 126-66.

Rep. Edwin Tompkins, assistant Republican floor leader, said the bill would allow Gov. Lawrence to succeed himself should it eventually become law.

If adopted by the Senate, it would have to go through the Legislature again at the next session and then be approved by the people.

Other legislative developments: Neff Investigation—Sen. John Carl Miller (D-Beaver) asked the Senate to investigate what he termed allegations that Samuel G. Neff may have been involved in the possible misuse of state funds for political activities while he was manager of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

Mass Transit—The House approved legislation aimed at solving Allegheny County's transportation problems by placing mass transit systems under public ownership. The vote was 130-68.

Chicken Causes Some Excitement in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Why did the chicken cross the road? To get to the other side of busy Fifth Ave. in the heart of Manhattan.

The fowl slipped out of a crate on a truck Tuesday. Squawking and screaming, it dodged honking autos and fluttered to a sidewalk.

A cab driver picked it up and tried to hand it to a patrolman. He declined custody because he was too busy unsnarling the traffic jam.

So the cabbie drove off with the bird.

Five Killed in Crash Of Bomber in Oregon

BURNS, Ore. (AP)—A B52 jet bomber on an experimental low-level flight for the Strategic Air Command crashed in flames Tuesday. The five men aboard were killed.

Witnesses said the eight-jet plane caught fire and was enveloped in flames when it crashed in a remote area 35 miles east of this central Oregon town.

The plane exploded and scattered wreckage and bodies over a mile area.

Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle built the plane and was conducting tests for the Air Force.

Tranquilizer Pills Are Used on Canines

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A gun that shoots tranquilizer pellets instead of bullets is being used in this city's anti-rabies drive against wild and stray dogs. Fourteen dogs have been knocked out so far with the hypodermic-like pellets by four hunters. The dogs were turned over to the dog pound which estimates the city has about 40,000 unvaccinated dogs.

Resignation Of Frondizi Is Demanded

By BRIAN BELL

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, a hero of the revolt that toppled Juan Peron, issued a defiant call early today for the resignation of President Arturo Frondizi. The government shut back that Frondizi will not quit.

Rojas sounded a virtual call to arms to the country's increasingly rebellious armed forces.

Branding the 14-month-old Frondizi administration "tarnished and illegitimate," Rojas warned the president he faces a military ouster if he fails to heed the ultimatum to resign.

Interior minister Alfredo Vitolo, the president's staunchest defender in the week-old crisis, retorted that the government would meet the threat of revolt with all its power.

The sudden development clearly drew the lines between the government and rebellious factions in the armed forces. Rojas' denunciation was the boldest open defiance to Frondizi's regime.

Vitolo's sharp answer made it clear that Frondizi is determined to cling to the presidency even if it means a showdown with the armed forces.

It appeared extremely doubtful Frondizi would be able to work out a compromise with the militant rebels. The only question seemed to be whether the military leaders have enough strength to force the president out.

Rojas' ultimatum was delivered to a late news conference after a hectic day of conferences between Frondizi and political leaders. The president sought to piece together a new cabinet in hopes of appeasing the military men who have accused him of ineffective economic policies and of coddling the Communists and Peronists who helped elect him.

Frondizi's entire cabinet resigned Monday under pressure from the military, who demanded sweeping changes in the regime.

Oklahoma Governor Signs New Liquor Law

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma has a new liquor law today and the new Alcoholic Beverage Control Board was to meet with Gov. J. Howard Edmondson to discuss means of setting up the machinery for legal sales. The governor signed the liquor control bill Tuesday. The bill specifies that legal sales should start no later than Sept. 1. The law provides for package sales only.

PLEDGE TO RETAIN WEST BERLIN FREEDOM IS MADE BY SECRETARY OF STATE

By LOUIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (A)—Senate leaders of both parties pledged support today to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in his Berlin policies.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told the Senate that the country is behind Herter in his firm stand against sacrificing the freedom of the people of West Berlin in any agreement with the Russians.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he was "never so proud of our secretary of state as I was last night" when Herter reported to the nation on the Geneva conference.

"He demonstrated forcefully that he deserves his spurs," Dirksen said.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic leader, said the statements of Johnson and Dirksen "once again indicated to the world that Congress, regardless of party, is behind Secretary Herter."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Congress will back Herter to the hilt when negotiations are resumed at Geneva.

Herter's stand drew similar expressions of support from House members. (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Professor Calculates Wrong Before Judge

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—William S. Wunch, Ph.D. in mathematics, miscalculated the odds in a jury trial.

Wunch, 34, an associate professor in math and physics at Arizona State University, recently was fined $15 for driving 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone.

He appealed to Superior Court. Acting as his own counsel Wunch used a time-distance formula to show why he couldn't have been doing 80. The jury disagreed.

Judge Renz L. Jennings did some quick figuring. His answer: a $50 fine.

Police Probe Hanging Of New Brighton Boy

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa. (AP)—Police in this Beaver County community tried to learn today whether a 13-year-old New Brighton boy accidentally hanged himself.

The body of Harrison P. Price Jr. was found late Tuesday afternoon by his mother in the basement of the family home. Police said a belt had been looped over a nail in a joist and there was an overturned chair near a comic book which the boy apparently had been reading.

ADVICE FROM WHITE

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, famed heart specialist, says "hard work, whether physical or mental, never killed a healthy man." He also told a meeting at Boston University Tuesday night that vigorous exercise and no weight gain after the age of 25 "will save many of our middle aged men."

G.O.P. Leadership Discounts Johnson Offer to Cooperate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican leadership discounted today the value of an offer by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson to cooperate with President Eisenhower on a legislative program.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he doubts whether, in most cases, Eisenhower will be willing to accept Johnson's definition of what is good legislation.

"The President always cooperates in what he regards as being in the interest and well being of the whole country," Dirksen said.

The Republican leader added that he doesn't believe Johnson's present efforts will produce sufficiently trimmed spending measures to meet with Eisenhower's approval.

Bandit Says Holdups Make Him Ill Inside

SAN FRANCISCO (A)—"Every time I do this I get sick inside," a young bandit exclaimed to Irene Solomon. He and a companion robbed her of $67 in her home Tuesday.

"I have to do it to dress well," insisted the bandit, who wore a brown pork pie hat, an Ivy League dark gray suit, an olive green sports shirt, a yellow sweater and argyle socks.

"Why don't you go to a psychiatrist?" retorted Mrs. Solomon—whose husband is one.

22 Americans Victims of Hotel Blaze

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
STALHEIM, Norway (AP)—The careless smoking of a Norwegian guide today was suspected of causing the Stalheim resort hotel fire in which 25 vacationers are dead or believed missing.

It is believed 22 of the victims were Americans. The guide was questioned through most of the night by police at nearby Voss. A police spokesman refused to give his name but said there is reason to believe he may have caused the fire through carelessness in cigarette smoking.

After questioning, the guide was released but was told to keep the police informed of his whereabouts. "Negligence is only a misdemeanor, so there was no basis (Turn to Page Twenty-Two)

Rebel Invasion Of Dominican Republic Foiled

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (A)—The Trujillo government claims it has wiped out a Cuban-supported invasion force near the Dominican Republic's north coast and killed its leader.

An announcement said Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, 68, who has ruled this country for 29 years, directed land, air and sea operations against the invaders last week in the Constanza area 180 miles northwest of Ciudad Trujillo.

It was the first official confirmation of reports from Dominican exiles in Cuba and Venezuela that an invasion force had landed last week. But the version of the government and the exiles differed widely.

The government announcement said Capt. Enrique Jimenez Moya, described by the exiles as the expedition leader, was killed as he tried to escape. It identified six other bodies among the rebel dead, but did not list the total casualties or the size of the invasion force.

Johnson Has Been Engaged In Trying to Prune Such Bills to Make Them as Nearly Veto-Proof as Possible, Despite the Contentions of Some of His Party's Self-Styled Liberals That He Is Robbing Them of Issues for the 1960 Campaign.

Some of them have been calling for strong Democratic bills on various development programs even if the measures are nullified by presidential veto. Such action, they say, would create clear-cut issues for the 1960 campaign. But Johnson told the Senate Tuesday that the Democrats weren't elected to Congress "to paralyze government." He said he was more interested in avoiding vetoes and getting legislation enacted than he was in creating political issues.

Five Outstanding Drum Corps Coming on 4th

Five of the outstanding Drum Corps in this area will be in Warren on the 4th of July to participate in a rousing, color splashed standstill Drum & Bugle Corps competition which is being sponsored by Warren's own Cornplanter corps in association with the Jaycees.

Jack Barr, General Chairman for the event—the first Drum Corps competition to be held on the 4th of July in four years—announced that the calibre of the outfits signed to appear guarantees an afternoon of outstanding music. War Memorial Field is the site for the contest and 3:00 p. m. is the starting time. Two crack Corps from Dunkirk that have been parade favorites in Warren will lead off the program. They are the hose Company #4 group and hose Company #1, better known as Dunkirk's "Flying Dutchmen". Hamburg, N. Y. contributes the precision excellence of its Kingsmen who have placed among the top three Corps every year that they have marched in the 4th of July parade here.

From Niagara Falls, N. Y. will come the Rainbow Raiders, a colorful ensemble of striking uniforms and excellent group musicianship. The final entrant is the newly reorganized Golden Dragons Drum Corps which hails from Jamestown and is sponsored by the American Legion. One of the top Corps in this area as recently as two years ago, the Golden Dragons were re-assembled only three months ago and this will be their baptismal competition.

Representatives from the N.Y.-PENN. Judging Association will evaluate the merits of the five competing Corps and the Cornplanter are offering $575 in prize money to the victors.

First prize money has been set at $200 while the second place Corps will go home with $150. Third place money is pegged at $100; fourth will receive $75 and $50 goes to the runner up.

Tickets are selling at 75c for adult seats and 35c for children under twelve years of age. The following business establishments have tickets for sale: Style Shop, B & B Smoke Shop, United Ogar Store and Walkers East Side store. There are no reserved seats for this competition.

Former Warren Man Is Elected Veterans' Head

A high honor has come to Kenneth E. Taft of Lakewood, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Taft, 20 Swiss street, Warren, with his selection to the post of New York state commander of Disabled War Veterans. First member of Robert F. Illig Chapter ever so honored, his selection took place during the state convention held in mid-June at Lake Placid.

Commander Taft was a resident of Warren in his early years, was graduated from Warren High School in 1937, and was employed by Motor Light-house when he was inducted into the Army in 1942 by Warren Selective Service Board.

His decorations earned during World War II include the Purple Heart with cluster; Bronze Star; Good Conduct Medal; American Victory Medal; Philippine Liberation medal, with two battle stars and bronze arrowhead; and the Pacific Campaign ribbon, with four battle stars and bronze arrowhead.

He served with the 902nd Field Artillery, 77th Division, and was seriously wounded in action in Okinawa.

He is a member of the American Legion, New York 77th Division Association; the Eastern Paralyzed Veterans Association, and the United Veterans Council of Jamestown. He is employed by Hope's Windows, Inc. He and his wife have three children.

In addition to offices in his local chapter, he served two terms as third junior vice commander and last year, was senior vice commander of the DAV state Department.

Claims Neff Used Office To Promote Political Activity

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sen. John Carl Miller (D-Beaver), in a Senate resolution, has cited allegation that Samuel G. Neff ordered state employees to "run political errands while he managed the state workmen's insurance fund.

Miller's resolution, introduced Tuesday, quoted allegations that Neff ordered employees of the Labor and Industry Department, assigned to work in Harrisburg, "to perform political services and to run political errands in Beaver County."

Neff, former Beaver County Democratic chairman, was discharged from the $12,500-a-year post after Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith, a Republican, charged that he was part of a scheme to extract kickbacks from highway equipment rental contractors in Beaver County.

Fewer Accident Deaths Reported In State in '58

HARRISBURG — Accidental deaths in Pennsylvania decreased in 1958 for the third consecutive year, it was reported today by the State Department of Health.

Vital statistics for the state showed a decline in both the number and rate of accidental deaths. The 1958 accidental death total of 5,066 is 5.9 per cent less than the 1957 figure of 5,374. The accidental death rate for 1958 was 45.5 deaths per 100,000 population, a 5.4 per cent reduction from the 1957 rate of 48.1.

Accidents ranked fourth among the leading causes of death in Pennsylvania in 1958, but they were the most frequent cause of death for that portion of the population between the ages of five and 24 years, and the third most frequent cause of death for ages 25 through 44.

For children under five years of age and people 45 through 64 years of age accidental deaths were fourth in frequency and sixth among persons over 64 years of age.

Motor vehicles were involved in more than one third of the total accidental fatalities, but the motor vehicle death rate of 16.2 per 100,000 population, or a total of 1,801, in 1958 is the lowest rate recorded for the past 13 years.

Over 30 per cent of all accidental deaths were attributed to falls. The 1,571 deaths from this cause were 11 per cent fewer than the 1957 figure of 1,765. Deaths from falls classified by type were as follows: falls on stairs, 364; falls from ladders, 30; falls from one level to another, 275; falls on the same level, 302; and other falls, 530.

The number of deaths from falls increases with age as shown by the rate from this cause of 4.1 per 100,000 population for those under 65 compared to 115.1 percent for over 65 age group, or 28 times greater.

Other accidents causing substantial members of deaths during 1958 were: fire and explosion of combustible materials, 373 deaths; drowning and submersion, 205; poisonings, 202; inhalation and ingestion of food causing obstruction or suffocation, 94; machine, 89; firearms, 81; and blows from falling objects, 81.

Sixty-two persons in Pennsylvania lost their lives in 1958 while boarding or leaving boats, ships and rafts; 11 died from hunger, thirst and exposure; three from insect stings; 16 from excessive cold; and one from lightning.

Twenty-eight people died in accidents involving aircraft, and 53 in train accidents.

C. the 164 infant deaths attributed to accidents, 58 were caused by inhalation and ingestion of food causing suffocation. Thirty-eight deaths resulted from suffocation in bed or cradle.

Seaway Lauded in Talk At Attorney Convention

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — The St. Lawrence Seaway demonstrates how two countries can cooperate in the development of a continent, a Canadian attorney told the summer meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. Tuesday.

Atty. John J. Robinson, treasurer of the Law Society of Upper Canada, said:

"I think it safe to say that there never has been a time when two nations cooperated together to produce work of such a size and of such significance as the Seaway."

The United States and Canada jointly constructed the Seaway to permit ocean-going vessels to pass between the Atlantic Ocean and the Great Lakes.

Shooting of Performer Is Ruled Accidental

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The fatal shooting of a woman performer in a Wild West act by a 9-year-old New Kensington boy June 7 has been ruled accidental by an Allegheny County coroner's jury.

The coroner's jury returned the verdict Tuesday after an inquest. Frank Monaco, who accidentally fired the fatal shot, did not testify.

According to testimony, the boy picked up a rifle that had just been loaded for a trick shooting show at Pittsburgh's bicentennial exposition in Point Park.

Killed was Mrs. Mamie Pentman, 38, who appeared with her husband, billed as Wild Bill Cody, and daughter, Mary Alice.

Strike Continues at J. & L. Steel Works

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Open hearth workers continued a strike today at the big Pittsburgh Works of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. but removal of picket lines permitted other employees to return to their jobs.

Fellow United Steelworkers began going back Tuesday afternoon when picketing ended. They had been honoring picket lines set up Monday night.

The Pittsburgh Works, comprising the South Side and Hazelwood plants, employs a total of 12,000 production workers. About 2,000 of these work in the open hearth department in the South Side plant.

MARILYN IMPROVED
NEW YORK (AP)—Film star Marilyn Monroe was reported in excellent condition today after an operation. She is expected to leave the hospital Friday.

The nature of the operation was not disclosed. The surgeon was a gynecologist, Dr. Mortimer Rodgers.

He said "there was no evidence of pregnancy. She had not been feeling well for a couple of days prior to coming in here."

Her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, said the surgery was of a corrective nature.

Accidental Falls Major Cause of 1952 Mortality

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Accidental falls are a major cause of mortality in the United States, accounting for more than 20,000 deaths — a death rate of 12 per 100,000 population — each year, it is reported by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The loss of life resulting from falls is more than three times that caused by fire and explosions, nearly 10 times that from accidents involving firearms, and about 15 times the toll from aircraft accidents.

Most of the victims of fatal falls are older people, the statisticians point out. The death rate from falls decreases moderately from infancy to a minimum at the school ages and then rises progressively with advance in age, slowly at first but very sharply at the older ages. Under age 75 the death rate is higher for males than for females, but thereafter the rates are sharply reversed.

Somewhat more than half the people fatally injured in falls — about 11,000 a year — suffer their injuries in and about the home, reflecting the high frequency of falls among older people, who generally spend a major portion of their time at home.

It should be noted, the statisticians add, that only two per cent of fatal falls — little more than 400 a year — result from accidents in factories, mines and quarries, and other industrial places.

Figures on fatal injuries in various types of falls are:

Falls on stairs, most of them in the home — about 2,500.

Falls from ladders, mostly in and about the home — 800.

Falls out of windows, from roofs, trees, chairs and beds, and other falls from one level to another — 3,800.

Falls on the same level — on the floor, ground, sidewalk, street, and the like — nearly 4,000.

Nearly nine tenths of the people reported as fatally injured in falls on the same level are 65 years of age and older. Quite commonly these people fall while merely walking about the house; in many instances physical weakness or impairment is a contributory factor.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Testing Laboratories Inc. sold a nickel producing process to the International Nickel Co. Inc.

The foreign and domestic patents apply to the Simpson process, a method for producing nickel from lateritic iron ores, the companies said. These ores are mined in Cuba, the Celebes Island and the Philippine Islands.

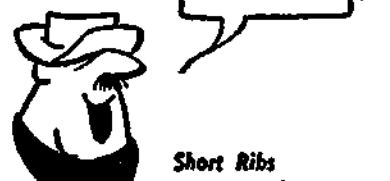

CHICAGO (AP) — United Electric Coal Co. has developed a new three million dollar earth-moving machine for excavation in strip mining. The machine, called a wheel excavator, is now producing coal from a central Illinois strip mine that otherwise would be abandoned, the company said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Philips-Van Heusen Corp. joined the lengthening list of men's shirt makers to increase their $4 shirts to $4.20.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ruberoid Co. is adding a finished product warehouse to its dry felt plant at Gloucester City, N. J., the warehouse will measure about 20,000 square feet. Dry felt is a base material for asphalt roofing and hard floor covering.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Many people who go abroad say their trip is ruined because they don't know how to tip properly.

"I don't want to slight anybody," they often say. "But I do want to come home solvent."

Of course, with an attitude like that they are bound to get off on the wrong foot. Anybody whose primary interest is personal solvency has no business going abroad. He should stay home and hire a small trustworthy Boy Scout to count his money for him.

But tipping shouldn't be an ordeal. Once you get the hang of it, it even can become exciting.

The first problem, naturally, is whom to tip. In general the rule is the same in Europe as in the United States—you tip everybody who speaks to you and isn't a close relative.

There are certain exceptions, however, and nothing is more embarrassing than to tip the wrong persons.

Fortunately for the beginning traveler's peace of mind the exceptions are easy to learn.

—In Britain you tip everything except museum statues and members of the Buckingham Palace Guard.

In France you tip museum statues but you don't tip Brigitte Bardot, members of the French Academy or gendarmes in the process of making an arrest—as they already have their hands full.

In Switzerland you tip everything that comes near you but doesn't have a bell around its neck or say "moo."

In Germany you tip everything that says "ja," which is pronounced "yah." If someone says "yeh," don't bother to tip him. He is probably an American soldier in civilian dress.

In Italy there are no exceptions. You tip everything that moves.

The safe rule in all countries is to tip every hand you see that is stretched toward you palm upward. Recently in Paris a tourist held his palm out to see if it was raining, and before he could get it back in his pocket other U. S. tourists, mistaking him for a native, had dropped $8.12 in it. His take even included a Canadian dime.

The next question is, "How much should you tip?" The answer here depends on another question: "How much have you got?"

It is wrong and unfair to think every European is out to rob you, or that he regards every American as a millionaire.

He is more likely to regard you as a human slot machine. He is reasonable. He doesn't expect to hit the jackpot every time he plays a slot machine.

Half of what he thinks you have will generally satisfy him.

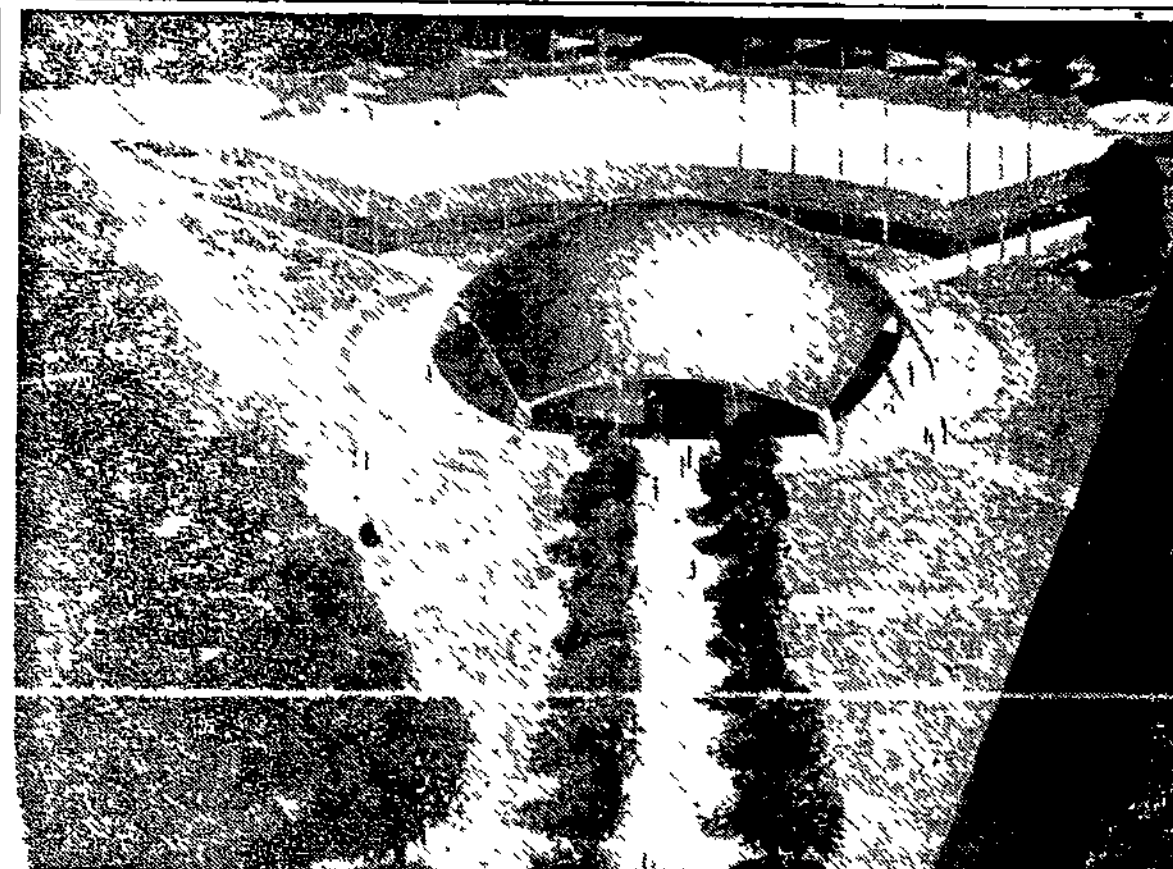

The thing to do is to buy a dozen cheap, shabby wallets and divide among them equally all the tipping money you can afford for that day.

When it becomes necessary to tip anyone, you simply fish out one of the wallets and hand it over to the person you are tipping. He will go through it carefully, take out exactly half, then smile and hand the wallet back to you.

If you put a photo of your dear old gray-haired mother in the wallet, he may even only take a fourth.

The tip he gets may be either more or less than he expected, but in any case he will be satisfied. He will think you're a game sport about the whole matter.

That's the whole secret of successful tipping—you make a game of it for everyone concerned.

THE MOTORIST'S PRAYER
The following, from the latest issue of the "Rotary Cog" printed for information of members of the Warren club, really needs no further comment:
"O God, give me a firm hand and a sharp eye so that I will not injure any person while driving. Thou hast given life and I pray that none of my actions will take away or spoil the gift which comes from Thee.
"Grant that I may refrain from the kind of indulgence that would impair my skill and thus endanger the life and safety of my fellow man.
"Guide my automobile for the protection of others. And may I not miss, because of the love of speed, the beauty of the world which Thou has created. May I always drive courteously, safely and with a full sense of the responsibility which lies in my hand.
"Last year 37,000 people lost their lives and 1,300,000 were injured, in traffic accidents."

HATS OFF DEPARTMENT
Hats are tipped today to officers and members of six organizations that are helping to make it possible for Girl Scouts who could not otherwise afford it, to attend camp this summer. Through contributions to the Campership program Girl Scouts are receiving either full or partial camperships depending on individual need. The following organizations have contributed: Warren Jaycees Auxiliary, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, North Warren Firemen's Auxiliary, Rotary Club, and Zonta Club. Additional contributions to the fund were made in memory of W. Wade Ransom.

NO COMPROMISE
In a report to the nation carried by radio and television Tuesday evening, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter as was expected, declared most emphatically that the Western Allies will "never compromise the freedom of the brave people of West Berlin," in negotiating with the Russians.
Mr. Herter called on the Kremlin to give "serious second thought" to Western proposals for settling the Berlin crisis. In review of the deadlock East-West foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva which recessed Saturday, Mr. Herter questioned Russia's sincerity in talks with the West.
Minding no words, he reported no progress was made at the six weeks of talks which would justify President Eisenhower going to a Summit conference.
Today's dispatches, coming over the special leased wires of The Associated Press, it is gratifying to learn, seem to indicate that the reaction to the speech has been most favorable, with lawmakers, regardless of party, lauding the stand taken by the Secretary of State, who blames Khrushchev for turning the Geneva talks into a futile exercise by his frequent speeches reiterating Soviet threats against the West.

WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in his TV-radio report to the nation Tuesday night—added nothing to what was already known about his troubles with the Soviets at Geneva. He reviewed the obvious.
The mild, 64-year-old Herter's talk, while firm, was also mild. He made a big point of emphasizing that the Western Allies would not abandon West Berlin. This may have been reassuring to the West Berliners, but it was hardly news.
Herter and the foreign ministers of Britain and France talked for six weeks—in sessions almost incredibly dull and colorless—at Geneva with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.
They discussed at great length the Soviet demand that the West-Berlin and the Westerners' refusal to do anything of the kind. They recessed last week until July 13 without reaching any agreement.
On the paramount question facing the ministers—there is any reason to believe they'd do better the next time?—Herter hit a small note of optimism and then became tremendously vague.
Herter said he and the other Western foreign ministers did not go to Geneva with "any high hopes." He regretted "no significant progress was made."
Then at the end of his talk Herter threw in this: "The conference revealed possible areas of agreement concerning specific arrangements for Berlin. I believe that it may be possible to build on these areas of agreement if the Soviet Union is prepared to accept the continued existence of a free West Berlin under Western protection."
If the Geneva talks so far have revealed anything it is that the Soviets are not prepared to do anything of the kind.
It was obvious before Herter

Here and There
If you're an average worker in industry, it takes you 10 minutes less time to earn a pound of hamburger than it did 10 years ago. The average industrial worker was earning the equivalent of a pound of hamburger in 23 minutes in 1948, whereas in 1958 it took him 33 minutes. It took 16 minutes to earn five pounds of wheat flour in 1948, while 10 years earlier it took 22 minutes. A pound of round steak took an average of 29 minutes in 1948, against 40 minutes in 1958, against 40 minutes in 1948. The figures were taken from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Standards, and were released this week in Pennsylvania by The Pennsylvania Farmers' Association. In terms of the number of hours or minutes it takes to earn the average industrial worker's supply of food, he is getting a better deal now than he was 10 years ago. In other words, says The Farmers' Association, food is one of the best bargains on the market today. The average worker is now earning his quart of milk in two minutes less time than he was in 1948. It took him seven minutes in 1948, while in 1958 it took nine minutes. Rib roast was down 10 minutes, from 33 in 1948 to 23 in 1958. Butter was down from 39 minutes to 29; cheese, down from 29 to 16 and chicken was down from 27 to 13 minutes. Eggs, in 1958 were selling for an average of 17 minutes of labor, per dozen, while 10 years ago the price was 32 minutes. On the basis of egg prices last week, the minutes required to earn a dozen eggs was believed to be at one of the lowest points in history. In addition to the fact that it takes less time to earn the required supply of food, the quality of the food being sold today is much improved over 10 years ago, says the Farmers' Association.
So you're going on vacation? Just load up the trunk, herd the family into the car and away we go—but hold on a second. It's not quite that simple. Lots of things to be done before you start. Such as: Stop milk and newspaper deliveries. Ask a neighbor to keep advertising circulars off your porch. Don't lower window shades—this is a tipoff for burglars. And make sure someone mows your lawn while you're gone—several inches of grass is a sure sign you're away from home, too. Tell the post office to hold your mail, or arrange delivery to a neighbor. Lock windows and doors. Don't forget basement windows and the coal chute. Tell the police how long you'll be gone and where you can be reached in an emergency. Shut off gas and water at main valves. Electricity can be shut off at the master switch, unless the freezer or refrigerator is to be left on. And from the National Safety Council come these tips on what to do before you leave on vacation: Have your car serviced thoroughly. Give special attention to lights, brakes, tires, steering and windshield wipers. Take a flashlight along for use in emergencies. Equally handy: a "trouble light" that can be plugged into the cigarette lighter receptacle. Make sure you take along necessary equipment for repairing a flat—spare tire (is it inflated?), jack and tools. Put a first-aid kit in your glove compartment—and be sure the contents are not stale or missing. One additional Council suggestion: "Start early on your vacation, and don't plan to drive too far in a day. Make this a vacation you'll really enjoy."

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
More Space Is Needed By Library of Congress
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—With 5,500 librarians descending on Washington for the first American Library Assn. meeting here in 30 years, the most important news is that the government has to have a new, third Library of Congress building.
To put the matter in the worst possible light, too many people can now read and write. And too many of them are rushing into print with works which librarians feel they must keep.
It isn't just the books that are now crowding L. Quincy Mumford, the congressional librarian, and his staff in what they say is the biggest library in the world. (The Russians also claim their Lenin Library in Moscow is biggest but they don't count books the way they do here.)
There are 36,900,000 "items" in the Library of Congress now. They fill 36 acres of floor space, or 250 miles of shelves. But only 11,400,000 of the items are books. They count anything over 100 pages as a book.
THE OTHER 25,500,000 ITEMS on the shelves, which the new third building will house, include 15,600,000 manuscripts, 2,300,000 maps, 2,000,000 pieces of music and 3,000,000 photographs. In other, under-a-million items are sound recordings, motion picture reels, microfilms, broadsides, photostats, posters, and books for the blind.
There are also 160,000 bound volumes of newspapers and periodicals from all over the world. The Library of Congress subscribes to 800 foreign and 700 U.S. newspapers.
It's all these miscellaneous publications that make new library space necessary. One thing that complicates book collecting is that new nations, which never published anything before, are now printing wholesale to educate their illiterate masses and to show their intellectual development.
A LOT OF PEOPLE BELIEVE the Library of Congress collects everything published and saves it. It doesn't.
Since 1945, it has collected an average of a million items a year. In 1955 and 1956, it was a million and a half. But last year, new acquisitions were cut to 787,000.
Two copies of copyrighted books have to be filed with the Copyright Office in the Library of Congress. American Book Publishers Council says there were only 13,462 new titles published in the U.S. last year. This doesn't include reprints or government publications. It counts anything over 65 pages—including paperbacks—a book.
New copyrighted books are kept for three years. Then, if there is no need for them, they go into library-exchange programs. More and more material on special subjects is being sent to collections like the new National Library of Medicine being built at Bethesda, Md.
THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS is being kept as a broad, general reference collection, but it is big business.
It now employs 2,800 people and costs 14 million dollars a year to operate.
And it's still growing.
No definite site has been selected for the third building and no plans have been drawn. But there's a $75,000 planning authorization before Congress.
The present main building was completed in 1897. The annex was completed in 1939. It was to do for a long, long time. But now, after 20 years, it's outgrown too.

Radio and TV
By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Ask almost any television viewer his pet gripe about his favorite pastime and he'll complain about exposure to the same commercials over and over.
Some commercials, he'll concede, were entertaining at first—but repetition of even a funny one loses its charm.
But filmed commercials are deliberately rerun, say the experts, for a variety of reasons. One theory of successful television selling is based on heavy hammering on the viewer's consciousness. The viewer may not like it but the message has sunk in—like a harpoon.
One major advertising agency, in fact, is dedicated to the proposition that all the key words should be repeated three times during each commercial message.
Another reason commercials are repeated is to catch viewers who missed it the first or second time around.
But, undoubtedly, the most popular reason for frequent repeats is economic: filmed commercials are expensive to make. They range in time from 6 seconds to 2 1/2 minutes and cost from $3,500 to $30,000 each.
Time was when every outfit with a movie camera and studio facilities was ready and eager to make commercials. As TV developed, however, companies have come to specialize. There are now a number of companies who do nothing else. One of the largest, MPO, last year turned out about five-million-dollars worth of sponsors' messages.

How to Keep Well
By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen
(© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)
To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

EXERCISES TO DEVELOP.
BACK MUSCLES
Dr. Paul C. Williams has devised various simple exercises to strengthen the muscles of the lower back. They can be done at home, preferably on a padded floor. Go easy at first and increase gradually as muscle strength improves. In time, each exercise should be done from 15 to 40 times.
The first exercise is performed by lying on the back with the knees bent, the feet flat on the floor, and the arms extended over the head. Bring the arms forward and slowly raise the head, shoulders, and chest off the floor until the fingers touch the floor between the feet. Return slowly to the original position. Do not anchor or tie the feet unless absolutely necessary.
[Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by letter if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.]
Remain in the same position, but with the feet closer to the buttocks, and tilt the pelvis toward the heels by contracting the muscles of the buttocks. Hold the abdomen down with the hands to prevent the back from bending upwards.
The third exercise is done from the same position. Bring the knees to the chest and clasp the hands about the legs. The knees are spread slightly and pulled up forcibly toward the chest. Exercise four is performed from a sitting position with the knees extended. Bend forward and attempt to touch the toes with the fingers.
In exercise five, the individual stands on one leg and, as the knee is bent, the other leg is extended backward but held straight. Meanwhile, bend the chest forward with the arms dangling to the sides and bear the weight of the body on the ball of one foot. When this position is reached, settle gradually on the bent leg and go up and down several times.
The last exercise is the flat-foot squat in which the heels are placed 12 inches apart with the feet turned out at an angle of 30 degrees. Squat but keep the heels flat on the floor, to get the most from the exercise. The arms and elbows hang between the knees approximately 8 inches in front of the toes. As you squat, bend the head and touch the floor with the hands.
TOMORROW: The artificial kidney unit.

SPOON NAILS
Mrs. F. writes: Our 9-year-old daughter has had spoon nails since age 5. The doctor is vague whenever I ask him about the condition. Do you think there is any cure?
Reply
Possibly, depending upon the cause. The hereditary type cannot be corrected, whereas there is some hope when the abnormality is caused by infection, eczema, anemia, or the immersion of the hands in strong alkalis.

DOESN'T TRUST DOCTORS
J. C. M. I haven't been to a doctor for years, as I think it's a lost cause. I have a severe case of flu and am taking the medicine prescribed a long time ago. What would you suggest I do?
Reply
You've had your money's worth. Why not re-invest in a more up to date medicine or a flu shot to prevent the disease from developing?

BROKEN HEART
L. C. writes: Is there literally such a thing as a broken heart?
Reply
Yes, but not from love. An extensive heart attack may leave the cardiac muscle so soft that it breaks upon.

LIP CANCER
A. V. writes: What are the signs of cancer of the lip?
Reply
The majority begin as small lumps or crusted lesions that ulcerate and fail to heal.

Business Mirror
By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam's stock of gold is dropping below 20 billion dollars for the first time since 1940. Its high mark was in 1949 when it was nearly 25 billion.
At the same time, total payments by the United States to other nations continue to exceed receipts from them. Latest figures show exports slipping while imports hold high.
These things react on each other. The record loss of gold last year—nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars worth—was due in large measure to the fact that some nations were getting more dollars through sale of their goods here than they were paying out for American goods. So they had dollars they could change into gold to build up their reserves.
To some Americans the situation is alarming—that is, the fear the condition is a continuing one that could drain the gold stock to an embarrassingly low level.
To others it seems healthy—that is, it's a good thing that Uncle Sam's friends are improving their reserves and getting their currencies back on sound ground.
In between lies a body of opinion that thinks the international balance of payments will work out in time along normal lines.

Even with a trifle less than 20 billion dollars in gold, the United States still have more than half of the metal this side of the Iron Curtain.
The immediate cause for the slip below 20 billion is a payment of 344 million dollars in gold to the International Monetary Fund as part of the United States' increased subscription to the fund. The U.S. Treasury also will be making some three billion dollars more available on call—not in cash—to the World Bank.
Actually the giant share of the gold we've been losing hasn't left the country. It has been transferred to the bank vaults where it is earmarked for the country paying for it in dollars. The vaults now hold around nine billion dollars of such gold.
The central banks of other nations can buy gold from the U.S. Treasury with their dollars. American citizens, or private citizens of other lands, cannot.
Last year, when interest rates on U.S. securities were lower, other countries tended to turn their spare dollars into gold to improve their reserve standings. This year, with security yields higher, more of the dollars are being invested in them and buying of gold has slipped from its former pace. Gold doesn't pay interest—securities do.

MR. AND MRS. BERNARD HARTWEG

Vases of white carnations decorated the altar of Holy Redeemer church June 13 for the marriage of Ann Marie McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. McBride of 41 Anchor street, Clarendon, to Bernard Hartweg, son of Mrs. Mildred Hartweg, 1202 Madison avenue, Warren.

Father Joseph Seybold performed the double ring ceremony. Wedding music included the traditional Bridal Chorus; also "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Mother, At Thy Feet Is Kneeling", sung by Joseph Guffire.

Wearing pure silk organza over taffeta and carrying a cascade arrangement of white shasta pom poms and ivy, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father.

The basque-bodice of her gown featured a circlet neckline, with iridescent sequins highlighting appliques of Venetian lace, and long sleeves tapering over the hands. The same appliques, all soft bows encircled the floor length skirt, bouffant and terminating in a chapel train. A pearl crown held her fingertip veil of illusion and her pearl necklace and ear-rings were the bridegroom's gift.

As maid of honor and only attendant to the bride, Frances Greenlee of Springboro wore sky blue pure silk organza over taffeta and carried a cascade of yellow shasta pom poms and ivy sprays. Her ballerina gown was styled with embroidered bodice and puff sleeves.

Norman Smith, Ridgway, served his cousin as best man; ushering were Allen Berglung

DAR State Contest Winners Announced

In the recent Good Citizens Contest conducted by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, Pennsylvania state winners were:

First place, Rebecca Jane Foxell, New Brighton High School, $100 Bond from the National Society; second place, Antoinette Urquhart, Ellsworth High School, $50 Bond from the State Society; third, Mary Ann Sudo, Hanover Twp. Memorial High School at Wilkes-Barre, $25 Bond from the State Society. Their scores were 99, 97, and 96.88, respectively.

Perfect score was 100. Pennsylvania high was 99, the state median was 78. The number of high schools in the state competing was 537. Sterling silver DAR coffee spoons were awarded to the 18 girls receiving scores of 93.87 or above. In addition, 30 others had scores of 93.76 or over.

Fifteen of these girls were from the Western District of Pennsylvania, six from Central District, nine from Eastern District. Of the 15 from this district, two from the northwestern section were among the winners. They were Jacqueline Brashley, Lakeview High School at Stoneboro, one of the fourth place winners, and Phyllis Butters, of Corry Area High School, given an honorable mention.

The test was on the Constitution and its Amendments. The method of selecting the State Good Citizen is approved by the State Department of Education. Each year, the National Society, DAR, receives permission from the National Contest and Activities Committee of Secondary School Principals before conducting the competition in the public schools.

General Joseph Warren Chapter, DAR, will again sponsor Good Citizens from the four area high schools as one of its educational projects for 1959-60.

New Minister Soon At Calvary Baptist

Rev. Neal M. Floberg, with his wife and small son, will arrive in Warren next week to take over his duties as minister of Calvary Baptist church, and will speak on Sunday, July 5.

Rev. C. L. Wesman, former pastor, was guest speaker this past Sunday, and he and his wife were honored guests at a fellowship hour following the evening service.

Church activities for the week include only the Hearth and Horizon meeting Tuesday at the Kenneth Browns, and the mid-week prayer and Bible study tonight.

Marjorie Olney, student at Bethel College in St. Paul, Minn., will arrive home for the summer vacation this week, and will be guest speaker at the worship services next Sunday. She will serve as church missionary for the remainder of the summer.

Other church activities include the WMS family picnic at Allen Park in Jamestown July 7; reception for the new pastor and his family at the YWCA July 9; and the beginning of Baptist Bible Camp at Camp Burton in Ohio about the last week in July.

And finally this one: "The fact of going without hats has attracted a considerable number of followers in this city, and the young men who go without headpieces are not at all conspicuous any more. The custom is one brought home by college sports and the Warren boys have taken to it readily."

Use 'Pale' Cosmetics Over Rosy Base

Unless you are a melting blonde with creamy skin and sapphire eyes, better skip this whole business of the so-called pale look. For the truth is that a bit of paint dresses a girl up, creates color where there wasn't any, puts sparkle in the eye and a glow in the cheek.

That's what cosmetics were meant to do. Not one woman in a hundred looks like a beauty with pale cheeks, pale lips and pale green eyeshadow. She's much more likely to look like something just helped from her sofa.

But that doesn't mean that you have to give up the pale look entirely if this fad pleases you. The whitened lipsticks do very well over a deep red or deep pink shade. But please, make sure you have a really sizzling pink to start and don't go overboard on use of the white lipsticks. Remember, you don't want to look as if you're in need of a massive dose of vitamins.

The notion that a tiny dab of perfume is "ladylike" is a carry-over from the Victorian era. It's an extension of the attitude that once said that rouging was "fast" or that no nice woman colored her lips.

In 1959, we make a dashing use of make-up. In the big cities, false eyelashes, eyeshadow and eye-liner are worn in the daytime. Perfume is worn all day long, just as it is in Europe.

But since the primary purpose of perfume is to give pleasure to yourself and others, don't be timid about applying it. The woman who can drift through a room leaving a trail of carnation scent didn't get that way by putting a dab behind one ear. She splashed herself in it liberally, thereby turning heads.

At a gathering of mature women recently, it was shocking to see that nearly all of them had dry, old, clawlike hands. The hands were far older than the corresponding faces. They were nicely manicured and decorated with handsome rings. But this didn't alter a look of oldness.

It was obvious that these women had lavished much attention on hair and face and completely forgotten that hands, too, need care. Your hands need a creaming nightly, exercise to keep them flexible, and as much suntan oil as you lavish on your face and body.

Minister Honored By Youngsville Charge

YOUNGVILLE — About 100 Methodist church members were in attendance at a reception-dinner held in the social rooms at 6:00 p.m. Monday, when the Rev. and Mrs. J. Norman Holders were welcomed to the parish for another year. Mrs. Margaret Knapp gave the invocation.

Following a well-planned co-operative dinner, Mrs. William Clark introduced the following, who issued warm words of welcome: Elton Barton, president of the board of trustees; Vern Hull, for the official board; William Baughman, superintendent of the Sunday School; Mrs. H. H. Husted, president of WSCS. All noted gratifying advances made during the past year.

A hearty response was given by the pastor after which William Clark presented to the couple an electric grill, chaise lounge, and two chairs, a gift of Irvine, Garland and Youngsville Methodist churches and an expression of members' esteem. Committee members in charge included Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. H. J. Measz, Mrs. John Coons, Mrs. Warren Jones, Helen Piper.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert M. Timmons, 103 West Wayne street, were in Cleveland last week to attend the commencement exercises at Fenn College, where their son, Hugh Edward Timmons, received his degree of bachelor of electrical engineering.

A member of Lambda Tau Delta Fraternity, Student Council, Dormitory Association, Newman Club, Hockey Club, and Varsity Sports, Ed was honored by the faculty at a banquet just before graduation as Fenn's outstanding athlete of the 1958-59 season, receiving a trophy along with three varsity letters for the year. A 1954 graduate of Warren High School, he was also elected to membership in Wing and Torch, honorary society for outstanding students at Fenn.

Job Hunting Calls for Neatness

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

This is the time of year when teen-agers start looking for summer jobs. It stands to reason that some are going to win out while others lose.

The deciding factor will undoubtedly be personal appearance. There's no need to try to deck yourself out like your favorite movie star. In fact, this will go against you. What the prospective employer wants to see is you, looking neat, clean and presentable.

Wear gloves and a hat, by all means. Your hair should be shiny clean and well-trimmed. If you like the notion of white touches, make sure they're really white. Go easy on the make-up but don't show up with a shiny nose and patchy lipstick.

Stay away from blood-red nail polish; most men detest it. There are enough pale polish colors to choose from these days. Be pleasant, businesslike and above all, don't giggle when you're asked a question.

Absolutely one of the best ways to possess a flat stomach is to haul it in. That is, each time you find yourself slumping, straighten and pull in your stomach.

Hold your stomach flat as you walk and sit. This strengthens the stomach muscles and makes them do the work they're supposed to do. Don't depend on a girdle to hold the line. A girdle is an enormous help and you should wear one. But it's intended only to supplement the work of the stomach muscles.

And incidentally, holding your stomach flat will also automatically improve your posture. Try it and see.

The gal who is short-waisted has a special problem. If she is to avoid looking dumpy, she must stick to streamlined (but not tight) one-piece dresses in solid colors.

The darker colors, lightened by bright touches, are her best bet. Wide belts are not for her since they tend to saw her in two and cut down on her height. She should avoid separates unless she wears dyed-to-match sweaters or blouses and skirts. These give her the all-in-one look that she needs.

She should also be careful about foundation garments. A one-piece foundation is best for her since it will tend to smooth her out in the middle and give her a sleek look.

G-R CLASS TUREN
Members of G-R Class of Epworth Methodist church will have a tureen picnic at 6:00 p. m. Thursday at Flossie Schweitzer's home. Those attending are to bring a tureen and table service; dessert and beverage will be furnished.

Stop, Think What You Were Going to Say Just Then

Never try to tell—
A teen-age girl who has just broken up with her steady that she won't spend the rest of her life sitting around home without a date.
A man that any car is a better make than the new one he is driving.
A woman that she would look younger with gray hair than she does as a bleached blonde.
Mothers how or when to discipline their children.
A 16-year-old about how easy he has it compared with you when you were his age.
A woman who enjoys being a martyr that she ought to quit being a doormat.
Parents of a new baby that all young babies look alike.
A saleswoman that you want a dress in a certain color whether it is "being worn" this year or not.
A teen-age boy that a girl is "a real brain" if you really want him to ask her for a date.
A person who is upset over a trifle that it really isn't important enough to worry about.
A person who enjoys poor health that he is looking mighty well.
A kid that something you want him to eat is "good for him."
Sports car enthusiasts that your idea of a real car is an "old-fashioned" model with such quaint equipment as automatic shift, power brakes, power steering, and air conditioning.
A man that women are safer drivers—never mind how many figures you have to prove it.

The Mature Parent

Educators Could Profit From Some Piano Lessons

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

As a child I had a stern piano teacher who required me to toil endlessly over the scales in my exercise books. Once, horribly depressed by the sounds I made, I protested the deadly monotony of the steppingstone notes. Glaring at me, the teacher said, "I am paid for giving you music lessons. Now the left hand alone again!"
Then came an unforgettable afternoon. I found the family's collection of "Irish Songs" on the piano rack and idly struck the notes I saw on the open page. To my amazed delight I suddenly realized that I was playing my father's favorite "Kathleen Mavourneen"—and playing it with certainty and skill. It was a moment of the most intense self-appreciation.
And it's my reason for deploring modern scorn of the old phonetic method of teaching children how to read.
Yesterday an 8-year-old neighbor returned a borrowed copy of Waldemar Bonsels' classic "The Adventures of Mays the Bee" because, she told me, she didn't "recognize" some of its words. She's not a stupid child. She's just not been drilled in the steppingstone sounds of the alphabet's letters. So she can't sound them in word combinations as my scales enabled me to explore the note combinations of "Kathleen Mavourneen."
Thus she's denied the self-appreciation that overwhelms a child when phonetic drilling enables him to sound the letters of an unrecognizable meaning.
But today we are so afraid of being bored ourselves that we are wared to others of boring children. We reject the phonetic method because it offers no immediate reward. We give Billy a "right vocabulary" that enables him to recognize some words as a whole but denies him the skill that would enable him to make all words his own.
In a book on modern methods, a teacher quotes H. L. Mencken on his 8-year-old discovery of "Huckleberry Finn." Wrote Mencken: "It was probably the most stupendous experience of my life. Child though I was, I realized that I had entered a domain of new and gorgeous wonders."
Then the modern teacher carefully refrains from reminding us that Mencken belongs to the generation that was drilled in phonetics. Odd, isn't it?

SOCIETY

Major Improvements At Grace Methodist

The last three major improvements in Grace Methodist church this week.

During the winter, a complete new kitchen unit was installed at a cost of $13,000. All equipment was replaced with new and modern facilities; a new lowered ceiling and tile floor were added, and a new institutional dishwasher was purchased.

In March, the organ was dismantled and taken to Buffalo, where a factory rebuilding process was completed. The pneumatic action was replaced by electric action; all pipes cleaned and returned, and a number of pipes added, these latter ordered from a company in Germany which specializes in their manufacture. A number of new stops added also provide combinations not previously available.

The instrument is now considered to be equivalent to a new $50,000 organ, according to the representative of the firm which did the work, Delaware Organ Company.

Third and last project, redecoration of the sanctuary, is being completed this week. New color schemes are being followed, with a light blue over-dome and light tan sidewalls. Arches and ceiling borders are highlighted in gold, while corner columns of the sanctuary are painted light gray.

Pulpit chairs are being covered in a bright red to match the altar ceiling pad. Later, choir chairs will be replaced with new upholstered chairs and, eventually, trustees hope to re-carpet the sanctuary floor.

Members and friends are cordially invited to worship this Sunday to hear the new organ and enjoy the artistic redecoration of the House of Worship.

FAREWELL GATHERING

Mrs. Richard Davis and children, Lynn, Ricky and Janet, of Westfield, N.J., are spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Lewis, Jackson avenue.

Friends in town are receiving notes from Mr. and Mrs. Leo Poolos, of Greenville, who left in April for a visit in Greece and will tour Europe before returning home in the fall. Mrs. Poolos is the former Koula Geracimos of Warren.

Larry Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Upton of Garland is a patient in Hamot Hospital in Erie. He underwent major surgery last week and will be happy to receive cards or letters from chums while he is confined to the hospital for several weeks. Mail may be addressed in care of the Children's Ward.

For-Hire Homemakers Ease Lot of Many Families

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Welfare agencies are hiring substitute mothers to save hundreds of needy children each year from growing up in orphanages and foster homes.

This boon to family preservation is called homemaker service. It provides experienced welfare workers to help raise children in homes where one of the parents has died or been hospitalized for a long-term illness.

Here's a typical example of how it works: One day a worried father walked into the local welfare agency and asked for help. His wife had just been committed to a mental institution for an indefinite period of time.

He had been left with four small children. Since the father couldn't take care of them and hold down a job at the same time he wanted to place them in foster homes until his wife recovered.

A social worker explained that for a small sum the agency could send a woman to look after the children and manage the household each day until he got home from work. The father agreed. The result was that he and the children were spared the heart-break of separation while the mother was away from home.

In addition to pinch-hitting for missing parents, homemakers are called on to help in other types of cases. For instance, they help parents who have children with serious ailments such as mental retardation. Since the afflicted child requires a lot of care, the mother often doesn't have time to devote proper attention to her other children. The homemaker takes care of these youngsters for her.

For-hire homemakers can appear like ministering angels to a husband who is left alone with the children and dirty dishes.

Another type of case occurs when a woman returns home from the hospital after having a baby.

The homemaker looks after the older children while the mother recovers and gets used to caring for the infant.

Homemakers also advise mothers on how to raise children and do housework efficiently. Welfare agency officials explain that such tips have proved especially useful to widows who have several young children. In many cases, mothers who felt incapable of raising their have turned them over to foster homes if it hadn't been for the homemaker's help.

Homemakers have proved highly beneficial in aiding elderly folks. By relying on a welfare worker to do the shopping and difficult household chores, feeble oldsters are often able to live happily at home instead of having to move to an old folks' institution. Often homemakers provide nursing care for elderly people who are ill.

There are about 150 welfare agencies in 33 states and the District of Columbia that offer the services. Each one pays the salaries of its homemakers, which range from amounts of less than a dollar to $1.80 an hour. The family is charged for all or part of the costs according to its ability to pay.

Some agencies are financed by private donations. Many receive funds from organizations like the Community Chest, United Givers Fund and cancer, heart, tuberculosis and polio societies. Others are supported by state and federal welfare appropriations.

Officials of the U.S. Children's Bureau explain that homemaker service holds excellent opportunities for women interested in social work. Most homemakers are between 40 and 60 years old and have raised families of their own.

If hired by a welfare agency, they undergo several weeks of training which includes courses in mental health, practical nursing and the care of elderly people and children. They also receive pointers on planning meals, food buying, home management and planning special diets.

Homemaker programs have proved so successful that health officials and social workers believe more communities should establish them. In fact, U.S. Children's Bureau Chief Katherine Oettinger believes labor and management should take an interest in promoting this service.

She declares: "Both industry and unions have a stake in assuring the high productivity of workers by supporting homemaker services. We would welcome their participation in a plan which would assure for workers in industry everywhere the peace of mind that comes from the knowledge that their families are protected in cases of the famous loaf of hearty, natural goodness!

ST. JOHN'S BREAD

Now you can share this famous tradition. You can bring freshly baked St. John's Bread to your table—tempting, wholesome, hearty—just as it's been served for centuries by the Monks of St. Benedict.

The bountiful slices satisfy keen appetites, and make every meal an adventure in good eating. Natural grains are blended, ground, then slowly baked according to the ancient recipe. That's why St. John's Bread has such distinctive, satisfying flavor. Serve it tonight.

First baked in America at St. John's Abbey in 1856. Now baked for you from a centuries-
old recipe brought by the Benedictines from old Bavaria.

Quick Action Looked For On Highways Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Quick and favorable action is expected by Gov. Lawrence on a newly passed measure which would give the State Highways Department authority to pave highways with a road building material developed from coal.

The Senate gave final legislative approval to the bill Monday night when it adopted House amendments to the proposal.

CORRAL HORSE SHOW

Bill Would Increase Employees in Assembly

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill which would increase the number of General Assembly employees and raise their salaries some $500,000 has been passed by the House and sent to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

The House Monday night brushed aside pleas for economy in passing the measure, 140-54. House amendments to the Senate measure would reduce the amount of salary hikes proposed for regular employees of the Legislature.

Rules for Staying Friends With Youth Around You

If you want to stay companionable with the young, here are some things you must avoid as you grow older:

Talking about how much better life was back in the good old days. For the young the good days are right now.

Dwelling on unpleasant subjects, such as illness and death. Young people don't like to dwell on the grimmer aspects of life.

Making such statements as "I don't know what the young people today are coming to."

Distrusting everything new and clinging to the old ways of doing things just because that is the way you've always done them.

Giving advice, no matter how sound it is, unless it is asked for. Making your health a main topic of conversation.

Being overly critical of others.

Letting yourself be easily hurt by slights that common sense should tell you are unintentional.

Looking backward instead of forward.

Giving up doing things you are perfectly capable of doing, and becoming dependent when you don't have to be.

Having to be entertained all the time, instead of being interested in so many things you don't have time to feel lonely or neglected.

Being thoughtful of others and helpful in the many ways that you can be.

Ignoring your age instead of always dwelling on it. You can't hope to be companionable with the young unless your own spirit is young and hopeful instead of tired and disillusioned.

Opening lead—♠ 4

There are a lot of ways to bid today's hand. Playing with Mrs. Charles Scholer in a Missoula, Mont., duplicate, Conrad Orr took the simple way and checking for aces.

The contract is a good one and should make easily with any reasonable break in hearts but the hearts don't happen to break reasonably.

West opened the four of spades and East's queen lost to Mr. Orr's king. He promptly led the deuce of hearts and after West played the queen he won in dummy and studied the whole hand.

If West held queen-jack he would make seven. If West held queen-small he could make six simply. He decided that West was not the sort of man who would play the queen from queen-small and planned his play on the basis that the queen was singleton.

Two more spade leads produced a club discard from East. Three club leads caused him to drop a diamond. It would have been a give-up play to let a heart go. Now three diamond leads left East with nothing but hearts. Mr. Orr led a heart and played low from dummy. East won but had to lead back a heart for the slam.

Equipment & Help-Yourself Features Assure Complete Satisfaction for Customers

Thursday marks another step forward for the Warren area, and possibly the first step forward toward a complete shopping plaza, with the opening of the completely self-servicing modern Quality Market on the three-lane in North Warren.

Latest in store design, equipment and self-service features have been used to assure complete customer satisfaction. Spacious aisles allow plenty of room for grocery carts, even on the busiest night.

Assuring freshness and quality, choice grade meats will be cut and wrapped on the premises and featured in the self-service meat department.

Parking area from the three-lane to the store's front is black topped. A covered sidewalk full length of the store provides shelter from the weather.

By visiting the store and registering within the next two weeks, customers will have a chance to win a clothes dryer, portable TV set, Hi-Fi console, portable record player, broilwell, roaster, electric knife and scissors sharpener, electric frypan, stainless steel flatware (52 pieces), bathroom scales, automatic electric grille and two boys and two girls bicycles.

Wallace Sauter, a Sheffield native who has managed stores for Quality Markets in Sheffield, Corry and Youngsville, will manage the local store. William Franklin, formerly with a Quality supermarket in Jamestown and a native Warren son, will manage the meat department at the North Warren market.

"Family" Ownership

Quality Markets is owned entirely by employees and former employees of the company. The business has grown from the first store opening in 1913 to the vast chain network it is today out of the savings and experience of employees.

Beginning last January 1, a new Profit-Sharing Retirement

Fund was inaugurated voluntarily by Quality Markets, Inc., in which all full time employees with service to the company will participate.

Jamestown was the site of the first store in April, 1913. Richard H. Reading was the founder of Quality Markets. He opened the Jamestown store on the theory that people would be willing to pay cash for groceries if they could buy quality foods at lower prices. This was a big departure from the ordinary way of doing business in those days.

With the success of the first store, others opened within two years in Falconer and Gowanda, N.Y., and Corry, Pa. These stores, then known as Quality Cash, were also successful.

Company continued expansion until they had a network of 73 stores in western New York and Pennsylvania. These stores were modeled after the first, small cash and carry-type neighborhood store.

Change With Times

In early 1940's Quality Markets followed the nationwide trend into self-service food retailing. Down went the smaller old-fashioned stores and up sprang modern supermarkets. Some of the small stores remain on the scene today, but 25 of the 44 stores operated are of the supermarket type, similar to the one opening at North Warren tomorrow.

Type of stores operated, character and variety of foods sold have changed through the years, but the fundamental operating policy has remained the same: to sell the best quality foods at the lowest possible prices.

A warehouse in Jamestown cuts cost of delivering food from the grower to consumer.

Richard H. Reading, founder 43 years ago, is president of Quality Markets, Inc. today. His son, Rollin J. Reading is executive vice president and general manager. William J. Radack, who started with the company as stock boy while attending school in Titusville, is vice president in charge of sales and store operations.

Head of meat procurement and merchandising for all stores, Donald Minum, opened the first meat market for the company in 1939. Supervisors of the local district of grocery and meat departments are Edson Ammons and Lloyd Saxton, respectively.

Ralph Whitehill, long a resident of Warren and North Warren was associated with Quality Markets for over 25 years as buyer and merchandiser before his retirement July 1, 1957. Upon his retirement, Harold Brown, former manager of the Titusville store, was promoted to headquarters in Jamestown as head grocery buyer and merchandiser.

Third generation of the Reading family is now associated. Richard P. Reading, grandson of the founder, after working in company stores, warehouse and offices while attending school and college, is buyer and merchandiser of fresh fruits and vegetables and frozen foods.

The only walled city left in North America is Quebec, a colorful city founded 351 years ago.

Nearly 60 per cent of the sugar sold in the United States goes to food manufacturers.

National League baseball teams this season will travel an estimated 216,511 miles.

Eggs at Three Dozen for $1 Big Headache for Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eggs, three dozen for $1... frying chickens, 27 cents a pound... These recent eastern retail prices are giving the nation's poultry industry a colossal economic headache for which a House Agriculture Subcommittee started looking for a remedy.

The subcommittee opened several days of hearings on ways to check the drop in egg and broiler prices, which have plummeted to the lowest level in some 18 years.

While a boon to budget-conscious housewives, current prices threaten disaster for egg producers and poultry suppliers from Delaware to California.

The poultry industry's scrambled problems stem from overproduction. Price depressing other segments of U.S. agriculture, now have hit the poultry farmer.

Wholesale egg prices, as a result, have dropped sharply in the past year.

New York wholesale prices currently range between 26 and 27 cents compared with 36 to 38 cents a year ago. Chicago wholesale prices are 23-24 cents as against 35-36 cents a year ago.

Minnesota farm prices were reported as low as 15 cents a dozen. The agriculture department reported Iowa farm prices at 18 cents against 26 to 31 cents year ago.

In Congress, much of the blame for present egg price levels has been laid at the door of the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Farm state members charge that Benson has not used the authority or money given him by Congress to buy up poultry surpluses for processing and use in the school lunch and other programs.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the Full Agriculture Committee, accused Benson of "standing idly by while hundreds and thousands of farm families producing eggs and broilers are being ruined financially."

The department, however, has spent nearly 19 million dollars since last October acquiring 16 million pounds of dried eggs.

Jaycees Sponsoring First Circus of Year July 16th

For over a century, the youth of the nation have looked forward each year to the coming of the circus to their town and the children of Warren will not be disappointed this year. The Warren Jaycees are sponsoring Hagen Bros. three-ring circus who will bring their entire show to Warren for a one day, afternoon and night showing on Thursday, July 16th.

While keeping abreast of modern times, by modernizing its equipment and production methods, Hagen Bros. Circus has not sacrificed any of the atmosphere that has made "circus" a magic word in children's minds over the years.

The circuses of bygone years used to thrill and fascinate the kids with the strident yet melodic sounds of the callopie, the impressive sight of the monstrous elephants and the funniness of the clown and his antics. These are still an essential part of the modern circus.

Perhaps it has changed its method of transportation from the rumbling wagons pulled by enormous draft horses to streamlined trucks; but all the vital qualities of the circus have been retained to enchant and entertain the public. The huge tented city and its bleachers, the popcorn and candyfloss, the elephants, men working in unison, the intrepid acrobats, and the exotic beasts are still part of the Hagen Bros. Circus.

This year along with the traditional circus acts, Hagen Bros. Circus is presenting "Spangleland," a spectacle composed of circus talent from 12 nations and animals from the five continents, plus twenty displays of acts, well known to both the circus world and TV.

Celebration Notes!

In order to keep the people of Warren fully informed about all phases of the forthcoming, gigantic Jaycees 4th of July Celebration the Times-Mirror herewith begins a column of Celebration Notes which will be compounded of news items, features, bad jokes and gossip. Our spotlight will play fitfully over all the myriad events planned for the recognition of our 180th year of independence and we encourage you to learn how to read so that you can keep posted on what's going on, when and where.

Never have we seen judges so harried as those who picked the finalists for the Miss Warren County Contest last Friday night at the Municipal Building. The reason for their discomfort lay in the collective beauty of the 33 contestants which made it almost impossible to eliminate one girl much less 28. But when the smoke had cleared it was found that Minna Bostin, Myrna Blum, Barbara Anderson, Jeanne Powley and Rosemarie Comberjatti had emerged victorious.

Overheard at the Judging: One contestant to another: "Don't forget to smile when you get in front of the Judges." Other contestant: "If I smile, they'll see my teeth chattering."

Genial Parade Chairman John Evans has announced that horses will be permitted in the parade. The only requirement is that they appear at the end of the line of march for what he terms "obvious reasons."

Honorary Parade Marshal Ed Lowrey and old parade hand Jack Barr along with Chairman Evans are working on a unique surprise for this year's spectacular. The little bird who told us speaks only Chinese so the message was slightly garbled but the surprise has something to do with the Oil Centennial, Col. Drake and all that jazz.

Four feet of snow is forecast for the Fourth of July by the Russian Farmer's Almanac but our more patriotic domestic weather savants see nothing but blue skies and balmy temperatures in their crystal balls. In case of rain the parade can be seen in Pasadena, Calif. on New Year's Day.

Altered Housing Bill Is Believed Faced With Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—A catch-all $1,375,000,000 housing bill faced today the possibility of a veto it was tailored to avoid.

A cut-down compromise of larger Senate and House bills, it was trimmed to a two-year program in an avowed effort to make it veto-proof.

With 10 days to decide, President Eisenhower was keeping his own counsel about disposing of it, but congressional Republicans expected a veto. Both Budget Director Maurice H. Stans and Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason have indicated they would recommend rejection.

The bill was sent to the President Tuesday by a 241-177 House vote. The margin of passage was nearly 40 votes short of the two-thirds vote necessary to override a veto. The 56-31 vote by which the Senate passed it Monday also fell short of a two-thirds margin.

A veto now, with Congress talking of adjournment in August, would probably mean another housing go-round ending in adoption of about what Republicans proposed when Congress convened Jan. 7.

This would renew the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance authority, now almost exhausted; extend the college dormitory loan program; and continue on a limited basis the urban renewal and slum clearance program.

How Pa. Congressmen Voted on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is how the Pennsylvania congressional delegation voted Tuesday as the House passed and sent to President Eisenhower a $1,375,000,000 compromise housing bill:

Democrats for (16): William A. Barrett, James A. Byrne, Frank M. Clark, John H. Dent, Daniel J. Flood, Mrs. Kathryn Granahan, William J. Green Jr., Elmer J. Holland, William S. Moorhead, Thomas E. Morgan, Robert N. C. Nix, Stanley A. Prokop, James M. Quigley, George M. Rhodes, Herman Toll and Francis E. Walter.

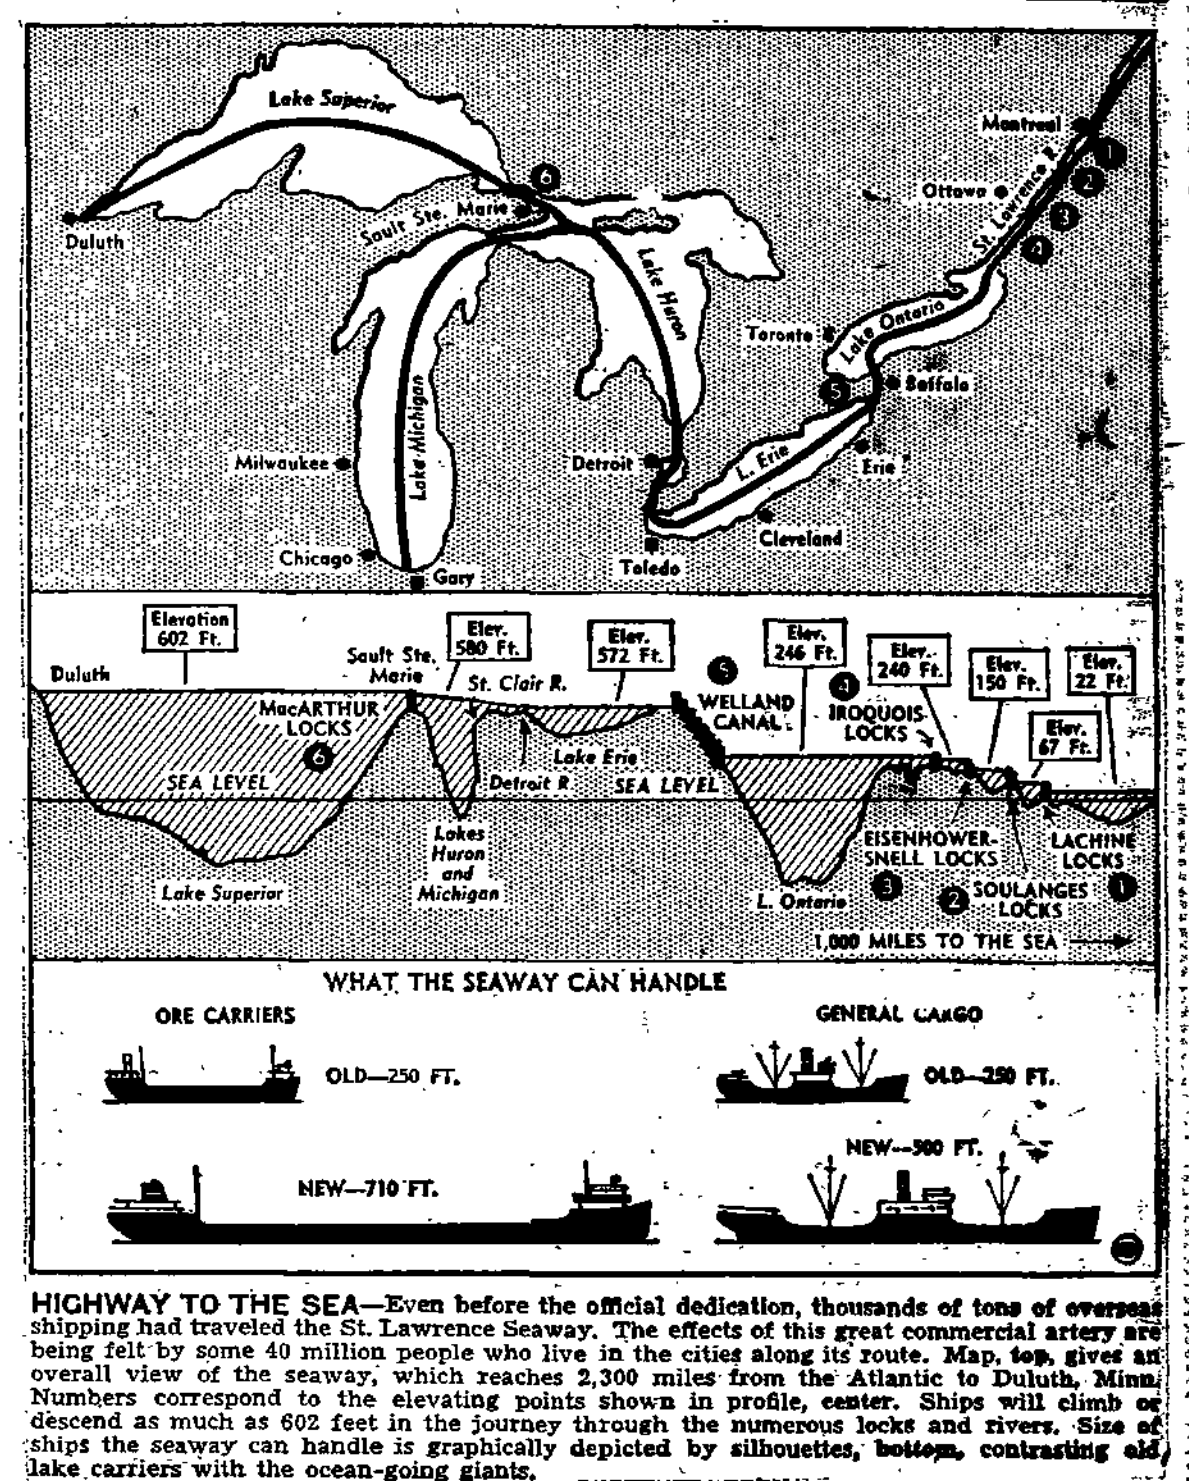

Republicans for (5): Robert J. Corbett, Willard S. Curtin, James G. Fulton, Carroll D. Kearns and James E. Van Zandt.

Democrats against: none.

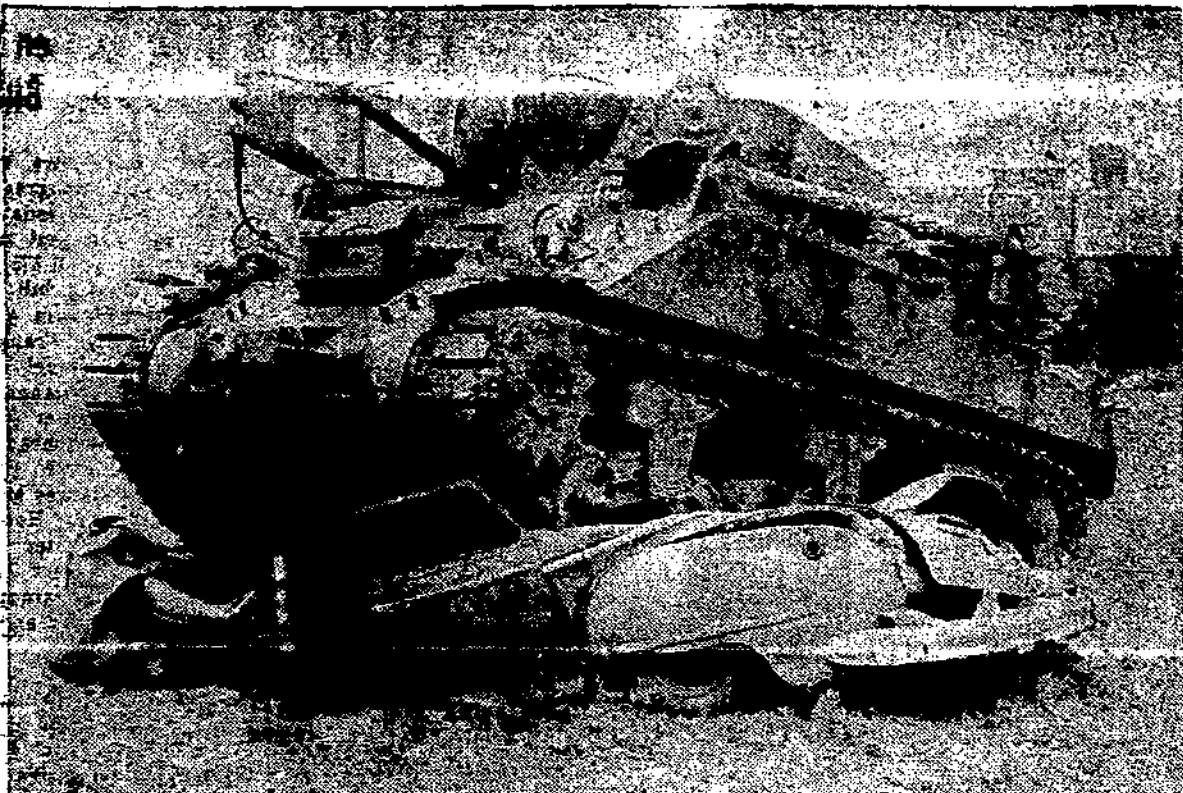

Republicans against (9): Alvin R. Bush, Paul B. Dague, Leon H. Gavin, Ivor D. Fenton, John A. LaFore, William H. Milliken, Walter M. Mumma, John P. Sayler and Richard M. Simpson.

Legion Supports Drive to Recruit Citizen Soldiers

HARRISBURG — American Legion State Commander Paul E. Walters, has offered "full and hearty support" of the 950 Posts in his veterans organization to assist the last-minute drive to recruit at least 400 new "citizen soldiers" for the Pennsylvania National Guard.

In letters addressed to the Guard's Commander-in-Chief, Governor David L. Lawrence, to State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle, and to Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, of the 28th Division, PNG., the Legion's Commander said:

"Co-operating with The American Legion nationally, the Department of Pennsylvania, comprised of 260,000 veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War, pledges you full and hearty support in the current drive to recruit before June 30 sufficient members of the Pennsylvania National Guard to bring this important element of our National Defense up to its full complement."

"We urge the parents—especially Legionnaire-veterans—to seriously discuss with their sons the advantages of this 'stay-at-home' means of completing their military training obligations."

"The modernized Pennsylvania National Guard, now a Pentomic Division with the newest equipment available, offers Pennsylvania's young men unlimited advantages as they consider their patriotic military duties to their communities and their country. We hope to reach young men approaching the age of 18 years, and show them the advantages of training in the vicinity of their own homes and of learning the most modern methods of national defense while being continually on the alert for any local or national emergency."

"We particularly urge every veteran of the last three wars to remember their own rigorous short-lived training which was often too little for dangerous short-lived training which to their own sons and to the young men of their neighborhood the bright advantages of training with the Pennsylvania National Guard—to keep our own guard up for their own best interests."

Awards Piling Up For Youngsville Band and Legion

YOUNGSVILLE — The Firemen's Band has a very busy schedule arranged again this season. Friday evening, it took first place in the firemen's parade in Busti, N. Y.; Saturday afternoon, members played for the Warren Presbyterian church picnic on Island Park, after which they left for North East where, in conjunction with the American Legion No. 658 Marching Unit, they participated ed in the 29th annual District American Legion convention parade, each winning second place. Each unit had 30 members participating.

June 27, the band and marching unit will travel to Oil City to take part in the parade for the 28th District Legion convention. On Wednesday, the band will play on the lawn of Lee Sitler on Highland avenue at a farewell party in honor of Dave Lilly, who plays drums and is leaving soon for the Navy. On July 25, it will cooperate with the marching unit in the parade for the Legion carnival.

A delightful shower party was held recently in the form of an outdoor barbeque at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coleman, Davis street, with 47 in attendance. The affair was given in honor of Shirley Fischer and Garry Ranson, who will be united in marriage Saturday at the Wrightsville Methodist church.

The Youngsville Business People's Association has set Friday, July 3, at 4:00 p. m. as its next Awards Day. Award recipients for last week's Silver Day program were: Bob Mourer, first; Shirley Walter, Pittsfield, and Shelby Dunham, Youngsville.

Mrs. Lyle Morley and daughters, Lynn and Lynda, spent a few days at Turkey Point

Report is Issued On Employment Of Handicapped

Long a leader among Federal agencies in the hiring of physically handicapped employees, the Veterans Administration has issued a report showing:

(1) Physically handicapped workers produce at slightly higher rates than do unimpaired workers;

(2) Impaired persons sustain fewer disabling injuries; and

(3) The handicapped have the same range of interest, skills and abilities as the non-handicapped.

Entitled "Handicapped? Not on the Job!" the report takes the form of a pamphlet highlighting the more dramatic among VA's handicapped employees.

The Veterans Administration, in its stations and hospitals from coast to coast, employs more than 8,400 physically handicapped workers. At the Pittsburgh Va. Regional Office, fifteen physically handicapped people are employed.

Each of VA's major divisions, the Department of Medicine and Surgery, the Department of Veterans Benefits and the Department of Veterans Benefits and the Department of Insurance, has found room for qualified and skilled workers who despite some physical handicap have proven that they can do their assigned job well.

The 1959 National League baseball season will run 171 days, four days longer than usual.

NEW "NO SQUEAL" ATLAS BUCRON TIRES

These are the sensational tires that ride, stop, look, and last like no others!

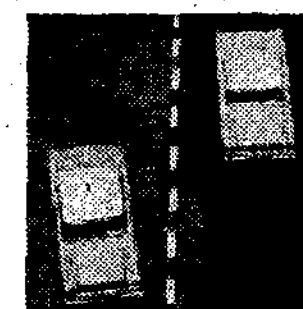

This is the season to get acquainted with the remarkable new tires of man-made miracle rubber . . . Atlas Bucron Tires. No matter where you drive them, the difference in ride is noticeable at once. In turnpike driving, road noise and car rattles virtually disappear. For this new tire flows over uneven spots, instead of bouncing over them.

And this revolutionary rubber grips roads so well that you can't make Atlas Bucron Tires squeal even with tight turns and panic stops. In fact, they stop shorter on wet surfaces than others on dry . . . 30% shorter than the best ordinary rubber tires! Yet they cost less than most premium tires.

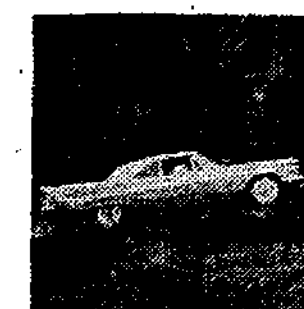

Now that the pleasure-driving season is here, we earnestly suggest that you visit your Esso Dealer's and get a full set of "No Squeal" Atlas Bucron Tires, made of Butyl, a product of Esso Research. See how much enjoyment, luxury, and extra safety they add to your "Happy Motoring!"

HUG THE ROAD SO WELL YOU CAN'T MAKE THEM SQUEAL. That's a unique feature of this new kind of tire. Another — they soak up road shock so efficiently that you get a brand new kind of ride.

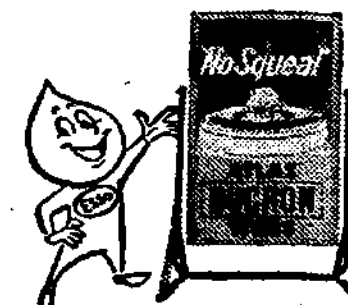

STOP FASTER ON WET ROADS THAN OTHER TIRES CAN ON DRY. Test after test proves that these tires stop 30% faster than ordinary rubber tires. Special design puts more rubber in contact with the road.

YEARS OF TESTING PROVE LONG LIFE. In desert sun and mountain cold, tires of Butyl stay flexible, don't dry or crack like other rubber. They withstand deterioration, a unique contribution to longer life.

Legislature Acts To Warn Of Danger in Plastic Bags

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation to force merchants and distributors to warn the public of the danger of plastic garment bags has been introduced in the Senate.

The bill, introduced Tuesday, would require that plastic bags destined for household use carry a warning against the danger of suffocation.

The proposal would apply only to bags larger than six inches in diameter at the open end. It also would be limited to plastic bags which could stop breathing of a normal baby or child.

The warning which would be printed on or attached to each bag would say:

"To avoid danger of suffocation, keep away from babies and children. Do not use in cribs, beds, carriages or playpens. This bag is not a toy."

Cases have been reported in Pennsylvania and elsewhere where small children have suffocated after placing such bags over their heads.

The measure was introduced by Sens. Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton), John Carl Miller (D-Beaver) and Raymond P. Shafer (R-Crawford).

Increase in Whooping Cough Noted in Report

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department reports a 67

per cent increase over last year in known cases of whooping cough.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, Department secretary, reported Tuesday that this year's cases totaled 870 so far compared with 522 for the same period in 1958.

He said the increase indicates "complacency or negligence" because vaccines are available to prevent the disease. He said that whooping cough killed nearly as many children in Pennsylvania as polio during the past three years. Whooping cough deaths totaled 24, Polio deaths 30.

In another report, the department said 100 persons 100 years old or more died in Pennsylvania last year. Seventy-four were women. Heart disease caused 50 of the 100 deaths.

Interesting Reports Made At Annual Hospital Meeting

The annual membership meeting of the Warren General Hospital Association was held Tuesday noon to elect new directors and to hear reports on the past year's activity at the hospital. Following the Association meeting the new Board of Directors met to elect officers.

The following members were unanimously elected to serve three year terms on the board of directors: T. K. Creal, II, Neil Culbertson, Mrs. W. H. Cowden, L. O. Eisenhauer, Edward C. Rasmussen, Kermit E. Forsgren, and Nick Wendelboe, Jr.

The directors reelected the following state of officers: President, Robert O. Wilder; Vice President, T. K. Creal, II; Secretary, Mrs. D. E. Conaway; Treasurer, E. C. Rasmussen; Assistant Treasurer, Jacob Levinson.

Joseph H. Williamson, Hospital Administrator, in his annual report, noted that these were some of the major accomplishments of the past year:

1. The opening of the Jefferson Pavilion on November 10, 1958 which provided 24 badly needed medical and surgical beds.
2. The installation of a liquid oxygen system which insures more economical, safer, and purer therapy oxygen for patients.
3. A Health Service for Employees and an Employee's Guide.
4. The placing of paintings in the Pediatrics Department by the Warren Art Group.

5. The renovation of part of the Senior Nurses Home and the furnishing of the living room by the Hospital Auxiliary.

6. The appointment of a Death Conference Committee by the Medical Staff.

7. An agreement with the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee to care for patients with cerebral palsy, scoliosis, and patients needing posture exercises.

8. Establishment of an Employees Council representing all hospital departments.

President Wilder, in his report, said the most significant improvement was the opening of the Jefferson Pavilion. In less than 7 months, 272 patients were admitted to the Pavilion with 3,317 patient days of care given. The president expressed the appreciation of the Board to the Hospital Auxiliary and its president, Miss Mary Craft, to the Red Cross Nurses Aides under Mrs. Harold Baker's leadership and to the Gray Ladies under Mrs. Paul Harrington's direction.

Appreciation was expressed also to the entire Medical Staff, the hospital personnel, the Board and especially to Mr. Mr. Williamson who was described as an exceptionally competent administrator by the President.

The complete annual report from all hospital departments is contained in a 43 page booklet which was distributed to the membership.

Tionesta Lions Accomplish Much in Past Twenty Years

TIONESTA — "How big you are doesn't matter — it's the big things you do that count" could well be the motto of the Tionesta Lions Club. Though the organization's membership has never been higher than 38, it has helped raise $64,000 to build an industrial plant in Tionesta, raised another $1,300 to enlarge the community recreation field, acquired the deed for a community swimming beach and built a bathhouse.

These activities represent only four of the twenty years that the Tionesta Lions Club has been in existence. They are four of the bigger projects the club has attacked in the times since 1939 when it was formed, but there are other things the people of Tionesta may remember more.

For example, there are the children that attended Halloween parties the organization sponsored in its early years. The farmers will remember best, perhaps, that a Lions Club sponsored dinner and agricultural display was the forerunner of the Forest County Fair. And at Christmas time there are the bright street lights, the result of a Lions Club project of 1954 and 1955.

Civic-minded residents would call attention to the borough street markers and the highway signs the organization erected or the swimming and water safety classes it sponsored.

Some of the projects have been fun, such as the movies the club showed every Saturday night during the World War II

Vacation Homes Sought for 20 I.O.O.F. Children

Each year the Odd Fellows Home of Western Pennsylvania closes for seventeen days in order to give the children a vacation from the Home and to afford an opportunity for the staff to all take their vacations at the same time.

Some of the children have parents or relatives that they may go with, but for twenty of them there is no one to take them.

The Home is seeking places in private homes for these twenty children ranging in age from eight to seventeen years of age to spend the time from July 9 to July 27.

It is not necessary to plan special entertainment for these children. Just take them into your home and let them live as a member of your family.

Individuals wishing to take children should be able to get them at the Home in Meadville, Pa., on July 9 and return them on July 27.

If you are interested in taking one or more children please write to Charles A. Gape, Superintendent, Odd Fellows Home of Western Pennsylvania. Be sure and state how many children you would like.

It should be noted that there are more boys than girls who need vacation homes.

Annual Warning Issued Against Molesting Game

During the first half of June wild game bird and animal production is in full swing in Pennsylvania. This is the period—continuing into summer—when it is a pleasure to observe young and mature game birds and animals which later will provide enjoyment during the hunting season, when they may be harvested. This is also the season when the public moves into the open spaces, and this always poses problems. Invariably, some misguided persons engage in the inhumane and unlawful practice of taking wild creatures from their natural environment, also eggs from nests.

And so the annual warning: Do not capture, handle or take wild game; or the eggs of game birds or song birds. The "war" is seldom deserted; the mother has been frightened off by your approach or she may be away feeding at the moment. Disturbing or handling the young of wild animals or birds may cause the mother to leave her offspring or "peeps" to die. Children should be informed it is inhumane to do more than observe and go away, leaving conditions as found.

Often, taking young birds and animals home is sentencing them to death, and sometimes human safety is involved. A bear cub or young deer, if startled, can inflict serious wounds. A raccoon, squirrel or even a rabbit can do real damage to human tissue through biting and clawing.

When a person is sure young animals have been made motherless or a nest is left unattended a Game Protector should be notified at once. The officer will appreciate this assistance and will make proper disposition of the offspring or eggs.

In this season young wildlife depends on the protection of sportsmen, farmers and wildlife people. Dogs and cats should be kept under close control. It is the time to leave wildlife where you find it, remembering the law provides that game animals and birds shall not be molested or kidnaped. They may be lawfully taken only during the regularly declared hunting and trapping seasons.

NEW FOR NOODLES
CHICAGO (AP)—A new do-it-yourself noodle maker will enable Americans, who eat about 630,000 tons of noodles annually, to cut the cost of the Italian favorite.

By using the gadget, anyone can turn out home-made noodles. A twist of a dial and an additional trip through it produces square, rectangular or diamond shaped noodles.

Bizzaro Wins Unanimous Decision for Erie Title

Bob Walters under-estimated Johnny Bizzaro. Walters paid for holding up Bizzaro's honeymoon, and now Bizzaro can take that delayed wedding trip.

Bizzaro won an unanimous decision over Walters in a "title" bout for the lightweight championship of Erie last evening, taking all six rounds from Walters.

Several Warren fans saw the fight.

A packed house, between 1,200 and 1,300, at Cauley Memorial Auditorium saw Bizzaro out-punch and out-box Walters. Fight promoter Don Elbaum said today that the newly married Johnny was "too fast and punched too hard" for Walters.

Although Walters said his experience would carry him easily to a victory after the fourth round, oddsmakers picked Bizzaro with his hard punching. Johnny predicted a win to get even with Walters for holding up his honeymoon trip. He was married last Saturday.

Walters has never been knocked out, but Johnny staggered him during their go. The new king was unable to floor his opponent for the full count.

The victory was Johnny's 10th in 11 pro starts, his 9th straight. It also marked his second professional fight in his Gem City home town. Of Johnny's 10 wins, eight have been by the KO route. Walters was the first pugilist to go the distance with Bizzaro.

Johnny was expected to leave today for Niagara Falls and the delayed wedding trip.

Elbaum said the bridegroom may fight in Pittsburgh July 11.

Pirates Feast On Giant Pitching To Win By 5-1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It didn't take the Pittsburgh Pirates long to end their base-hit famine. Held to three singles Monday by San Francisco rookie Ed Fisher, the Pirates feasted on Giant pitching Tuesday night for 15 hits and a 5-1 victory.

Duck Stuart, Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski rapped 10 hits among them, all singles except for Stuart's 14th home run in the ninth inning with the bases empty.

Stuart went four for five; Skinner and Mazeroski three for five. It was Mazeroski's first appearance after sitting out seven games with a charleyhorse.

While the Pirate batters were busy, righthander Vernon Law kept the Giants in check on six well-spaced hits. He notched his eighth triumph against four setbacks.

For this afternoon's game the Pirates called on Bob Friend (3-9) to oppose John Antonelli (10-4).

Pittsburgh picked up its first run in the second inning on singles by Mazeroski, Roman Mejias and Law. Two more came in the third on singles by Stuart, Skinner and Mazeroski and a fielder's choice play on Law's grounder to short.

Stuart's homer and Don Hoak's run — scoring double accounted for the final Pirate tallies in the ninth.

San Francisco scored in the fourth when Daryl Spencer walked and came home on Jackie Brandt's double to left center.

The Pirates whacked loser Sam Jones (8-7) for 10 singles and three runs in the seven innings he worked. Billy Muffett relieved in the eighth and Gordon Jones in the ninth.

THINK THEY'LL STAND FOR IT?

Pitching of Law and Face Keeping Pirates in Race

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer

What's kept Pittsburgh's Pirates so close to the National League lead? The answer is the pitching of Vern Law and Roy Face, a starter-relever pair who have put away more than half of the Bucs' victories.

Law and Face were the only winners when the Pirates lost seven of their first nine games and plunged to the cellar. Now Law, ace of the starters with an 8-4 record, and Face, the majors' top winner at 11-0, have won 19 between them and the Bucs hold fourth place with a 37-33 record.

Law, 29, a right-hander who's been around since 1950, put away his third in a row Tuesday night, keeping the Pirates within 3½ games of first place with a six-hit, 5-1 victory over San Francisco. That made Law the first NL pitcher to beat every other club this season.

The defeat once again dropped the second place Giants two games behind the league leading Milwaukee Braves, who whipped St. Louis 9-5. Third place Los Angeles stayed a half-game ahead of Pittsburgh by beating Philadelphia 4-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated Cincinnati 3-1.

Home runs by Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges and Don Demeter got the job done for the Dodgers, who had only two other hits off loser Gene Conley (4-4). Danny McDevitt (6-6) was the winner.

Demeter and Hodges homered in a deciding, three-run fourth, with Hodges tying Hank Greenberg for 11th place on the all-time major league list at 331. It was his 11th of the season and followed a double by Wally Moon, who now has hit in 16 consecutive games.

Lee Walls doubled home a run in the first inning, then added an RBI single in a two-run, wrap-up fifth for the Cubs against loser Joe Nuxhall (3-6). Glen Hobbie (7-6) was the winner, giving up eight hits, but blanking the Reds after they scored in the first inning.

A. P. Writer Picks Champ To Win in First Round

By MURRAY ROSE
 Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson will knock out Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in the first round of an explosive, bloody battle at Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

This is the prediction of the writer after a study of the two fighters in their training camps, deep research of their careers, a look at a crystal ball and a consultation with a witch doctor.

Johansson's only chance appears to rest with his "thunder and lightning" right hand. "Blood and thunder" is the way Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's advisor, describes the mighty right and Ingemar, himself, appears to agree.

Ingo has kept the mighty right under wraps in training. There's not much question that he has the power in that fist, as evidenced by his first-round knockout of Eddie Machen, then the No. 1 contender, at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14, and his fifth-round kayo of Britain's Henry Cooper at Stockholm, May 79, 1957.

Both Machen and Cooper, however, are standup fighters. Both box in the classic style Johansson is accustomed to. Neither does much body punching. Johansson, too, is a stand-up fighter who operates with an orthodox left jab and follows with straight right hands. In training however, Ingo has shown nothing. He floundered like an amateur when he was pressed.

Patterson is completely different in his mode of fighting. The lithe pantherish champion fights out of a crouch. He bobs and weaves, holding both gloves in front of his face in a peek-a-bow style. His forearms protect his body.

Williams, Back in Lineup, Hits Single and Home Run

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Ted Williams has made Briggs Stadium his favorite ballyard since he burst into the American League in 1939.

A 40-year-old Williams, back in the lineup after being benched for weak hitting for the first time in his career, says "don't count me out!" following a single and home run in three at-bats Tuesday night as Boston rapped Detroit 10-4.

It was only the fourth time this season that Williams, who upped his average 13 points to .202, has managed two hits in one game — and it was his first game in Briggs Stadium this year.

That loss, their fifth in seven games, plunked the Tigers to fifth. The New York Yankees took fourth, beating Kansas City again, 10-2, and moving within two games of first place Cleveland. The Indians lost 5-1 to Baltimore while Chicago's second place White Sox moved within one game of the top by defeating Washington 4-1.

Early Wynn 10-5 became the AL's top winner with his 259th career victory. He got it with an eight-hit, seven-strikeout job backed up by Sherm Lollar's single and home run in three, and a pair of two-out hits from Earl Torgeson.

The Yankees, shrugging off Sunday's double defeat by Cleveland, made it seven out of nine with an 18-hit barrage that included three two-run homers — by Mickey Mantle (18), Hank Bauer (4) and Gil McDougald (2). Southpaw Whitey Ford (7-4), who sprained an ankle in his last start, was the winner with a five-hit-

Smethport Man Gets Nod for Wildlife Chief

A Smethport native has been named Chief of Wildlife Division of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, of the Bureau's region III states with offices in Minneapolis, Minn.

Allan T. Studholme received notice of his appointment early this week.

Mr. Studholme is a career conservationist. He received a B. A. degree from University of Wisconsin and an M. S. degree in zoology from Penn State.

After three years with Pennsylvania Game Commission, first as research assistant and then Chief of the Division of Research and Propagation, in 1945 Studholme joined Fish and Wildlife Service in Boston as Federal Aid Supervisor.

He holds a post similar to his new appointment in Boston at present.

Italian Lightweight To Meet Scanlon Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Mario Vecchiato, the Italian lightweight champion, fights in this country for the first time when he meets Bobby Scanlon in Chicago Stadium tonight. The 10-round bout is rated a tossup.

It will be televised over ABC at 9 p. m. EST.

The 28-year-old Italian is unbeaten in his last 18 bouts and has scored 43 victories in 52 starts.

Scanlon, 23, who fights out of San Francisco although he came up through the Golden Gloves ranks in Buffalo, N. Y., has won 32 of 36 starts, 10 by knockouts.

Extra Punch From Mound Preserves Solar Margin Over Nameless Nine

Opportunity was given Nameless Nine to score deciding runs over Solar Electric after the Bombers cracked open a scoreless deadlock with three runs and ended their scoring.

Fortunately for Solar, Nameless Nine wasn't able to muster the attack to out-do the Bombers who won the game 3-2.

The win was Solar's third consecutive in City Softball play. Bombers did all their scoring in one punch, giving Nameless combine four innings in which to score a possible victory. However the titleless crew pounded out two runs to still trail Solar at game's end.

Tight clutch pitching by Bob Schumacher in seventh frame was used to preserve Solar's one-run advantage. With runners on second and third and one away, Schumacher bore down on the hill to knock off next two batters and end the contest.

Three Bomber scores came with one out as Rex Graham singled and Tony Bonavita walked. Bill Massa chased home both runners with a deep center triple. He then scored on Ned Bartholomew's single to center.

Nameless' initial run came in fifth on a walk, an error and Chuck Reese's single.

A team mate explained Schumacher had to pitch out of several jams with the clutch burling. "But in seventh he had to be extra tough, with one out, a walk to Smith and singles by Reese and Berdine made it a narrowing 3-2 game. "That's when the Bomber pitcher showed extra courage to save the victory."

On the City agenda tonight is 400 Block Merchants and Elks on West Side field, Thursday. Betts will play Jones Chevy at Sheffield, Elks and Soda Mineral will play on West Side.

Alston Predicts His Dodgers Have Chance To Cop

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter Alston, a fellow who might hesitate to predict next Easter will fall on a Sunday, is now prepared to say his Los Angeles Dodgers could win the National League pennant.

The quiet, cautious man from Ohio hasn't reached the point where he's worried about what pitching rotation he might use in the World Series. But, after the Dodgers moved to within a game of second place Tuesday night by beating Philadelphia 4-3, Alston volunteered these remarks:

"If Gil Hodges and Duke Snider keep on hitting, we've got a chance."

"That is, if the pitching holds out."

"Now, I don't want it to sound as though I'm pinning it all on one or two men. We'd need help from the others too. It's gotta be a team effort—all the way down to the batboy almost."

"But when Hodges is hitting, it certainly makes a difference."

"I know Snider's got to be rested once in a while (because of a knee injury) but he's hitting over 300 and he's hitting with power."

Alston readily acknowledged other things have helped make the team look considerably different from the one he finished seventh with last year.

Wally Moon, for example, has a 16-game hitting streak going and is batting .333. Jim Gilliam, who has reached base 12 times in his last 17 at bats, is hitting .326. And Don Demeter has 14 homers, 50 RBI.

Hodges, however, probably figures in the change as much as anyone. He has hit safely in his last eight games, raising his average to .298. He has 42 RBI—12 in his last nine games.

Gil gained additional stature among the game's power hitters when he hit his 11th homer of the season Tuesday night. It was his 331st in the majors and it moved him into a tie with Hank Greenberg for 11th place among all-time home run leaders.

During an eighth inning flurry in which Merchants broke from a 6-6 tie, Jack Lobdell replaced right-hander Thompson. Jamestown used a walk, Dave Wilcox's sacrifice, Don Lepley's Texas league, one-baser by Tom Sharp and an outfield error.

Warren opened the game with a three-run burst, on a double by Barry Drexler who made three hits for the night, and singles by Lou Cummings and Dick Mancuso.

Rockets took a 4-2 lead in third, pushing one runner across on successive singles by Drexler, Earl Campbell and Mancuso.

Merchants came back bottom of third to tie it up and added two in sixth. Rockets tied the game up in the eighth 6-6 on singles by Chuck Kulbacki and Nick Creola, a walk and an infield bobbie.

Betts Use Berdine's Pitching To Hold Soda Mineral For 8-7 Loss

Has Warren's future mound threat come of age? Many softball players believe he has.

Max on the hill is John Berdine who stepped into one of the most important clutch City Softball games for Betts Tuesday night and walked away with a 8-7 triumph over Soda Mineral on State Hospital diamond.

It was Berdine who aided in opening runs for Black Knights bottom of second. Single by Rickerson, walk to Bonavita and an error to Molinarb was backed by Berdine's booming home run.

An error to Schenck brought up brother Mud Berdine who sent a triple to deep center, pulling in the fifth Betts marker.

Soda Mineral retaliated in third on Harrison's double and two walks, sending Bonk Murphy to the plate. He slapped a single to center.

Knights scored a singleton in their half on Massa's single, a sacrifice and a one-base hit by Letrent.

Scoreless fourth inning was followed by Koebley's lead off triple for S-M in fifth. With two away, B. Brown singled, Check walked and H. Brown homered to deep right sending the Brewers ahead 7-6.

S-M lead was short-lived when Syd Cummings, with one swipe of the bat, sent the horseshoe to right center, tying the game 7-7. An exciting, scoreless sixth inning held the contest's outcome in doubt. Betts made use of the bottom of final frame when Massa's triple sent Cummings across plate.

Merchants Explode To Wallop Rockets 8 to 6

Jamestown Merchants evened their score with Rocket's Kenny Thompson, shelling him for 13 hits and all the Merchant runs in an 8-6 Intercity League victory in Municipal Stadium Tuesday night.

During an eighth inning flurry in which Merchants broke from a 6-6 tie, Jack Lobdell replaced right-hander Thompson. Jamestown used a walk, Dave Wilcox's sacrifice, Don Lepley's Texas league, one-baser by Tom Sharp and an outfield error.

Johansson Talks Good Fight Like Rademacher

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Asked who Ingemar Johansson reminded him of, Cus D'Amato replied, truthfully, "Floyd Patterson."

And that could be the principal reason why Cus the Crusader gave the Swede the crack at Floyd Patterson's heavyweight championship. Patterson has fought nothing but amateurs and near-amateurs since scaling the heights, and Johansson fits well into the pattern. June 25 is amateur night at Yankee Stadium.

Luke Rademacher, Johansson talks a good fight and is supposed to have an even better right hand than the one with which the Olympic champion put Patterson on the seat of his trunks in Seattle two years ago.

IF YOU LISTEN TO JOHANSSON and Bill Rosenzohn, the boy promoter, long enough they'll talk you into picking Independent Ingemar to flatten the titleholder with the square stance and peck-a-booby style. Brave men blanch as Rosenzohn describes how Johansson starched Eddie Machen before the California tiger could get his hands up that chilly night in Gothenburg last September.

"He's the greatest finisher I ever saw," says Rosenzohn, "and don't you believe that he doesn't think he can knock out Patterson. I sat next to him in Indianapolis last May 1 as Brian London took Patterson into the 11th round. He expressed amazement at Patterson's amateur moves and awkwardness and ineffectiveness of his punches."

Anything that happens in the Bronx has to be anticlimax to the goings-on that led up to the match. The prelude has been as mixed up as a teen-age Beatnik.

D'AMATO, THE SELF-APPOINTED general manager of the world, started detracting from the production immediately by belatedly dragging over London for a Patterson warm-up postponed as it hopped from Las Vegas to Indianapolis.

There was the lawsuit by Machen, who claimed Johansson ran out of a return engagement.

There was an attempt by D'Amato, the self-appointed savior of prize fighting, to muscle an old sidekick in on the earnings of Johansson for the next five years. D'Amato, who saved the sour scenery like Khrushchev rescued Hungary, threatened to pull the bloody battle out of New York in pique at the commission for blocking the skullbagger.

EVERY TIME D'AMATO opened his trap he knocked $50,000 off the gate. Joe Cahill, the Army tub thumper, borrowed for the occasion, threatened to withdraw to the Hudson Highlands unless Rosenzohn divorced himself from D'Amato.

Fed up with the shenanigans, William Zeckendorf, the real estate and hotel magnate, withdrew a $600,000 gate guarantee.

Those most interested in the success of the venture engaged in open warfare, Rosenzohn on one side, and D'Amato and Irving Kahn, head man of the closed circuit television outfit, on the other.

Johansson shuffled back and forth between his sylvan retreat in the Catskills and Broadway with his gay friend. The challenger trained like a guy getting ready for another TV appearance with Steve Allen.

But there will be enough circus lovers to give the two terrors sizable paydays.

Only the ringworms can get hurt and no one is hitting them over the head and making them buy tickets.

Michigan Jaycee Delegates Bring Their Own Hotel

BUFFALO (AP)—The Michigan delegates to the National Junior Chamber of Commerce convention have brought along their own hotel.

It's the Great Lakes cruise ship S.S. South American and it's costing them about $45,000 to charter it for a week.

More than 200 delegates and their wives will call the ship "home" during their stay. They docked yesterday at the Buffalo waterfront and found themselves the delegates staying closest to Memorial Auditorium, where most of the meetings are being held.

Convention planners, who have housed Jaycees in hotel and motels all over the Buffalo area, were happy to see Michigan provide its own hotel.

George W. Romney, president of the American Motors Corp. and the principal speaker yesterday, said that Americans should use voluntary cooperation to solve problems and not rely entirely on government agencies.

"If we are to arrest the trend toward an even bigger and highly centralized government bureaucracy," he said, "we individually must join with others in effective voluntary programs."

"Dependence on government agencies alone will not get the job done," he said.

TITUSVILLE PLANT The Herald: Edward J. Van Allen, operator of Titusville's sewage treatment plant, said yesterday the plant was in operation all day Monday, despite an excess amount of water due to rain. It had been erroneously reported to The Herald that the plant had ceased operation while members of the Ridgway Authority visited the plant. Mr. Van Allen showed a mechanically-drawn chart of the water flow through the plant Monday. The chart revealed that the plant was running full blast when the men were there. The valves were wide open, but so much fluid was descending upon the plant that some of it was being bypassed directly into the creek. The graph also revealed that about 8:20 a. m. that day the effects of the night's rain began to be felt. The plant had been handling at the rate of 3,000,000 gallons a day, but then jumped to more than 4,000,000 gallons.

for holding him," the police spokesman said. Investigators did not discount the possibility some of the missing may still be found alive. Many of the hotel's 147 guests—130 of them Americans—scattered in the confused hours after the fire leveled the stately old wooden building early Tuesday.

Seven bodies were found, and 18 persons were reported unaccounted for, officials said. Another 17 were hospitalized nearby at Voss, but spokesmen at the hospital indicated none were seriously hurt.

U. S. Embassy officials hurried from Oslo to help the tourists, most of them stranded without clothes, passports or other possessions.

The embassy refused to give out any list of American casualties or survivors until it made certain its information was correct.

The Red Cross issued a list of 24 dead or missing, 17 still in hospital and 15 persons treated for injuries but not hospitalized. But many of the names were incomplete and no hometown addresses or nationalities were given.

One unconfirmed report said 21 of the dead or missing were American tourists, 2 were Canadian and 1 was Dutch. Today officials said another American was believed missing.

West Berlin is the biggest city in Germany with 2,500,000 inhabitants.

Pledge

(From Page One)

U. S. diplomats hoped the evidence of solid congressional backing in both parties would help impress in Communist minds the need for a change in Moscow's policy if there is ever to be a peaceful solution to the German crisis.

Herter spoke grimly Tuesday night in reporting to the American people on the six weeks of deadlock at the Geneva foreign ministers' conference on Germany. The negotiations recessed last Saturday until July 13.

In a 15-minute radio-TV speech, the American foreign affairs chief called on the Soviets to abandon their drive "to add more than two million free West Berliners to the captive peoples of Eastern Europe."

"This is the critical question," he said. "If the Soviets do not hold to this annexationist design, we should be able to reach agreements on Berlin consistent with the honor and interest of all our countries."

The Reds touched off the crisis by demanding an end to the post-war Allied occupation of West Berlin. Britain, France and the United States refused to pull out of the Communist-encircled city without an arrangement for its freedom. The Soviets rejected all Western offers.

Herter linked West Berlin's freedom to America's own. "When their freedom is diminished, our freedom is inevitably diminished," he said.

He pictured Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as uttering threats and "Communist upsidown talk," aided by the "baneful influence" of speech-making by Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow and elsewhere while the foreign ministers sat at Geneva.

Herter said "some degree of progress" must be made at Geneva in order to warrant a meeting of heads of state afterwards. "Regrettably," he said, "no such progress has as yet been registered at Geneva."

On the plus side he reported the negotiations had:

1. Produced worldwide approval of the Western powers' plan for solving the Berlin problem, and the problem of a divided Germany, through a peaceful reunification of Germany with Berlin to be the capital.

2. Demonstrated a high degree of unity among the Allies.

3. Disclosed possible means of specific agreement with the Communists on Berlin.

"I believe that it may be possible to build on these areas of agreement if the Soviet Union is prepared to accept the continued existence of a free West Berlin under Western protection," he said.

might agree to extend the current agreements. This was considered a bare possibility, but McDonald declined to comment on it.

Second-quarter steel profits statements are due in late July and there has been speculation that the union may delay a strike in a gesture of public consideration and await the new industry profits results.

First-quarter profits approached a record and second-quarter statements are expected to be even better. The industry, however, has said it can do nothing that would cause inflation. In this, steelmakers have been encouraged by President Eisenhower.

The union announced that it has summoned its 171-man wage-policy committee for a session here Thursday. The group could ratify any proposed settlement or okay plans to tie up the steel industry in a strike shutdown.

The present sumup of the steel negotiations is that they have gotten nowhere so far, barely a week remains to negotiate successor contracts, and neither side says it wants a strike.

Both the industry and its workers are making money. While there are large steel stockpiles, industry steel consumption has been high. The workers are averaging a record $3.10 per hour.

Disappearance of Mrs. Long Aids Governor's Cause

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Mrs. Earl Long's decision to leave Louisiana for an extended rest today skyrocketed Gov. Long's hopes for victory Friday in his court battle for freedom from a state mental hospital.

Long's chief attorney, Joe Arthur Sims, said the latest development made the governor's release certain.

Sims broke the news of Mrs. Long's departure Tuesday night. He said he didn't know her destination, but she had been planning to go away since Sunday.

She had not disclosed any plans to oppose the habeas corpus proceedings, scheduled for 10 a. m. Friday at Covington. And, there has been no word of opposition from Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) or administration leaders.

Frozen Chickens Are Scattered on Highway

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A refrigerator truck overturned today on Route 22 near here scattering more than $2,000 worth of frozen chicken along the highway. No one was injured.

Daniel Fadrize, 38, of Shamokin, Pa., told police he lost control of the truck when a drive shaft broke. A wheel of the truck came loose and rammed the front of the R. H. Johnston Restaurant causing slight damage.

The truck was owned by the Mandate Poultry Co. of Herndon, Pa.

WORKIN' ON THE RAILROAD—The quest for summer jobs hasn't driven Gail Hallas, 16, left, and Wanda Chism, 18, to such oily work on a locomotive in Detroit, Mich. They grabbed the big oil can as part of a program put on for high school leaders by the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Detroit. The committee demonstrated modern railroad methods.

POLAR RENDEZVOUS—Somewhere north of the Arctic Circle a Boeing 3-52G Stratofortress is refueled in flight above rugged Alaskan terrain. Unusual photograph was taken from behind the fuel boom of a Boeing KC-135 jet tanker-transport. Loaded with instruments, the Stratofortress was undergoing a 50-day deep-freeze test by the Air Force of its ability to function during long exposure to temperatures ranging to 47 degrees below zero.

STILTED PERFORMANCE—Tractor on stilts moves across a gooseberry field in Kent, England. The stilt permit harrowing between rows of crops as high as 4 1/2 feet. Called the Lenfield Flamingo, the tall tractor has alternate adjustments.

BATTERY OPERATED TV—Being exhibited by model Ruth Slater in Chicago is a lightweight, battery operated, fully transistorized portable TV. It has a 14-inch screen and weighs 15 pounds. The set will be the first battery unit on the market.

Says Black Coffee Does Not Help Inebriates

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP)—An authority on alcoholic studies says pouring black coffee into an intoxicated person or making him jog around the block won't sober him up. "All that happens is that you have a wide awake drunk on your hands, instead of a sleepy one," said Dr. Leon A. Greenberg, director of the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies. He spoke at a meeting of the Maine Medical Assn.

Clement Attlee Will Speak at Grove City

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Clement Attlee, former British prime minister, has accepted an invitation to speak at Grove City College Feb. 12, 1960. Attlee's appearance at the college will be in connection with the school's student activity program. He will speak on the democratic governments of Britain and the U.S.

Asks Jobs of White House Aides Abolished

WASHINGTON (A)—Sen. Wm. Proxmire (D-Wis.) asked the Senate today to abolish the jobs of five of President Eisenhower's White House aides. Proxmire contended the five aides are assigned only to lobbying in Congress for the administration. "This," the senator said in a speech prepared for the Senate, "is morally indefensible. It is also clearly illegal."

GIRL QUADS

NEW YORK (AP)—Quadruplets—three boys and a girl—were born today to a 26-year-old Brooklyn woman in the Public Health Service Hospital at Clifton, Staten Island. The children are the first for Alex, 30, and Besse Kajouras. The father is a truck driver by day and is studying law at Columbia University at night.

LUCKY MAN

HART'S LOCATION, N.H. (AP)—Fred Arnold, 14, of Malden, Mass., fell 80 feet from Jacob's Ladder at Crawford Notch State Park Tuesday and suffered only a scratched knee and a bump on the head. Park officials said Arnold was near the top of the sheer cliff on Webster Mountain when he lost his grip and fell.
